CORNERSTONE IS LAID

ARCHBISHOP ALEMANY PARTICIPATED IN THE IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY

Every Spare Vehicle Was Pressed Into Service

Many of the Clergy Are Present

San Francisco, Aug. 4, 1862.—The cornerstone of the College of Saint Mary, situated on the county road to San Jose, four miles from the City Hall, was laid Sunday afternoon by Archbishop Joseph Sadoc Alemany, Archbishop of California.

About five hundred persons attended the ceremonies and every spare vehicle in town was pressed into service to convey the crowds to the scene of the dedication. A regular omnibus service was established for the day leaving the plaza at Kearny and Sacramento Streets every hour up to 2 o'clock.

One hundred and five acolytes headed a procession, formed some distance up the slope of University Mound, and marched to where the stone was suspended.

His Grace, Archbishop Alemany, performed the rites of the Church for the occasion and the stone was set.

Reverend John Prendergast preached the sermon with masterful delivery.

The cornerstone was a granite block containing a copper box with a slab over the aperture. The box contained pictures of Pope Pius IX, Governor Stanford, some coins, papers and a memorial scroll.

Among the clergy present were the Reverend S. J. Cotter, J. Motter, M. King, J. McGinnis, J. Harrington, J. Cassin, T. Coin, H. P. Gallagher, Fathers Biglioni, Alfranchini, and Young of the Society of Jesus, the Bishop of Sonora, and a canon of Guadeloupe, both in exile from Mexico.

The Vicar-General of the Archdiocese, the Reverend James Croke, V.G., was immortalized in the scroll which went into the cornerstone by these words: "It has been erected by the miners and the faithful of California through the exertions of Reverend James Croke, V.G. Father Croke, according to college authorities, collected thirty-three thousand dollars from the mining towns nearby.

Also in the scroll was the following: "Joseph Alemany, Archbishop of California, laid the cornerstone of this college under title of Saint Mary for the instruction of the youth of California not in literature only, but what is greater, in true Christian knowledge."

CHAPEL BLESSED

Archbishop Alemany Officiates at Opening of New Institution

It Opened Three Days Ago

Located Four and One Half Miles from This City

It Will Be a Great Benefit

San Francisco, July 9, 1863.—Joseph Alemany, Archbishop of California, today blessed the chapel of the new Saint Mary's College, situated near the county road to San Jose, a distance of four and a half miles from this city, on University Mound.

The institution opened to students three days ago when two hundred and ten pupils from this state and adjoining territories were accepted.

The Reverend J. F. Harrington has been appointed president of the new college, and will be assisted by the Reverend Neal Gallagher, vice-president.

Saint Mary's College is located on a lot of sixty acres size, possessing the advantages of a salubrious situation and commands an extensive view of the bay and surrounding scenery. The college building covers a space of 280 feet front by a depth of 50 feet; which in the center, is increased to a depth of 70 feet; 110 feet of the building is three stories high.

On the northern extremity of the building is situated the refectory while the chapel is located on the south. According to Mr. Thomas England, architect, this arrangement was made to permit the maximum of sunlight and to protect the students from the inclemencies of the weather.

The structure forms three sides of a quadrangle and on the eastern front there is a cloister 13 feet 6 inches wide, which extends the entire length of the building, so that under any circumstances and at all periods of the year the students can have outdoor exercise.

Offices of the steward are contained in the basement. Adjoining apartments house the servants, housekeepers, general store rooms and closets.

The building is designed in the Gothic style of architecture, and in its completeness of outline as well as the faultless elaboration of details, reflects the greatest skill and taste of its architect, Mr. Thomas England.

The pension, according to the officials, will not exceed $150 or $160 a year for board and tuition, which according to Father Harrington, will place its advantages within the means of all.

According to Mr. Langley, publisher, "It must be evident, considering the great want of educational facilities in the interior of the state, that the institution will be a great public benefit to the community at large, as all denominations will be admitted."

It has been the desire of Archbishop Alemany, ever since the conception of the school in 1855, to enlarge its facilities and house it in the most modern buildings. Registration is expected to increase considerably.

A Discovery

Bricks Will Be Made From The Soil on a New College Site

San Francisco, Aug. 5, 1861.—The proposed College of Saint Mary will rise from the very soil upon which it is to be built as a result of the discovery made by the Reverned Patrick Manogue today.

Delayed because of the difficulty in obtaining brick, construction on the new college has been at a standstill. Today Father Manogue noticed an unusual color in the earth on the tract selected for the college.

Scooping up a handful of the earth, Father Manogue took it to a local chemist and discovered that the earth is excellent for brick.

Next week a brick kiln will rise on the property and the College of Saint Mary will be built of bricks baked on its campus, from its campus, and for it.

THE EARTHQUAKE

It Strikes Saint Mary's And Has Done Some Damage

San Francisco, Oct. 21, 1868.—An earthquake sent pupils of the College of Saint Mary rushing out into the open from breakfast yesterday. Students made a mad rush through doors and windows as the tremor rocked the college.

Many of the students narrowly escaped injury as the student body was endangered by bricks falling from the chimneys and dormer windows. No serious injuries were incurred, although several of the students were suffering from shock.

Alarmed by the experience, students were badly frightened by a wind and rain storm that arose later. According to college authorities, the young men were so unnerved that they knelt in their beds and prayed.

A wind-break will be erected, Brother Justin, president, stated, to alleviate the harshness of the Pacific winds.

FIRST EXERCISES

Commencement Is Held at Saint Mary's College

It Was Newly Organized Last Year

They Were Entertained by The Archbishop

The Keys to the College Were Given to Them

Brother Justin Will Be The President

San Francisco, June 2, 1864.—The first commencement exercises of the newly organized Saint Mary's College located near the county road of San Jose, a distance of four and a half miles from the city hall, was celebrated here today with Reverend J. F. Harrington presiding.

The exercise consisted of an introductory monologue, music by the college band, examinations of the Sixth to the First Classes inclusive, a debate, and a series of physical drills.

James La Grave, graduating student, started the program with an introductory speech. Concluding this, the crowd was entertained by the music of the institution's band.

"Did the crusades exercise a beneficial influence on Europe and European Civilization, or the contrary," was the topic debated by the students.

Thomas F. Meagher, director of the Military Evolutions and General disciplinarian, put his classes through several drills and evolutions to conclude the first commencement exercises.

The college was founded by Reverend Joseph Sadoc Alemany, O.P., D.D., the first Archbishop of San Francisco in 1855.

During this time the school was maintained in the basement of the Cathedral on California Street, under the title, "Saint Mary's School."

BY TELEGRAPH

Eight Educators Are Coming to San Francisco

They Will Leave New York Tomorrow

San Francisco, July 15, 1868.—Eight Brothers of the Christian Schools will leave New York City tomorrow for the west coast by steamer to take over the College of Saint Mary on the county road four miles southwest of the city hall.

This was announced upon the return of Archbishop Alemany of California from a trip to Europe. Archbishop Alemany persuaded Pope Pius IX to send a mandate to the Superior General of the Christian Brothers asking for instructors. Brother Patrick, Provincial Visitor of the order was responsible for choosing the men who will arrive in San Francisco in a month.

Those selected for the task are Brothers Justin, Sabinian, and Dimidrian from Baltimore; Brothers Genebern and Cianan from Ellicotts Mills, Md.; Brothers Emelian and Adrian from New York; and Brother Gustavus of Mary from New Jersey.

The Brothers will embark tomorrow for the west coast.

Action was taken on the part of the Archbishop due to the great task of operating the College of Saint Mary. It is too much to expect, he indicated, of the clergy of San Francisco. The Brothers were chosen because of their long experience as educators. The order was founded by the Venerable John Baptist de la Salle in 1684 for the sole purpose of furthering education.

San Francisco citizens have indicated their approval of the choice of the Christian Brothers and it is hoped that the college will go forward under their direction.

This is the first time that the Brothers have been sent as teachers to the coast.

ARRIVALS FROM THE EAST

Eight Christian Brothers Come to Take Over the College of Saint Mary

San Francisco, Aug. 11, 1868.—Among the arrivals from the east yesterday were eight Brothers of the Christian Schools who have come from New York to take over the College of Saint Mary.

The eight educators, Brothers Justin, Cianan, Genebern, Sabinian, Gustavus of Mary, Emelian, Dimidrian, and Adrian, stayed last night at the Brooklyn Hotel on Bush Street at Barton Place. They were met by Father Nugent, secretary to the Archbishop.

As a welcome to the eight pioneers of education, a dinner was held today in their honor. Many of the clergy of San Francisco attended the dinner, following which an address of welcome was made to the small band of men who will direct the destinies of the college.

Following the dinner, His Grace, Archbishop Alemany and party, consisting of Monsignor Prendergast, V.G., Fathers H. Gallagher and J. F. Harrington, D. Nugent, and the new teachers were driven out in carriages to the College of Saint Mary.

They were received by Father Grey, president, and Father Brennan, vice-president of the school, who turned the keys to the college

The Press was spoken for by Phillip Roach of San Francisco Examiner, by Bunker for the Bulletin, and Nelson for the Alta.

The affair was highly spoken of by all who attended, it being classed as one of the finest programs and banquets of the year.

Splendid hospitality was shown to all. That a safe return to the city was effected the appearance of this item is a sufficient evidence.

IMPROVEMENTS

San Francisco, Jan. 5, 1868.—Improvements on the grounds of Saint Mary's College are being made in preparation for the coming spring semester.

Among the new additions are handball courts, improvements upon the yards, and revision of some of the smaller rooms. A trunk room was created where there formerly existed what was known as "the Black Hole."

Handball is a favorite sport at the college and has attracted many followers.

GRAND EXHIBITION

Elaborate Graduation Exercises Are Held by Saint Mary's College

The Clergy and Laity Were Present

San Francisco, June 2, 1869.—Students of Saint Mary's College participated in elaborate exercises yesterday, held at Platt's Hall on Montgomery Street. A long and well-selected exhibition of vocal and instrumental music and elocutionary exercises were presented. The affair was well-attended and appreciated by the audience.

The program as presented by the college included: Music by the College Band; Recitations by H. C. Maguire, J. D. Fennessey, J. R. Grant, H. P. Gallagher, and Bartholomew P. Oliver. "Lochial's Warning" was recited by George Mulligan and C. R. Fraser.

Opening the second part of the program was a dialogue, "The L.L.D." presented by J. Landers, C. Haydn, and J. White, The presentation kept the audience continually in roars of laughter.

James Lawler, John Meighan and Joseph D. F. Aud delivered essays, the latter being a beautiful imagery of Bernal Heights.

Young vocalists were Eugene Gautier, John W. Shirley, John J. Donovan and Emile Corret, who rendered "The Murmuring Sea." John R. Kelly was featured in "The Cottage by the Sea;" Thomas and Henry Dunn in "The Cork Leg" and "People Will Talk" respectively.

The big chorus presented "O Gloria Domini."

At the conclusion Dr. J. Campbell Shorb addressed the students. Father Hayes, on behalf of the Archbishop of California paid a tribute to the Brothers and their students.

General concensus of opinion was very favorable concerning the entire presentation. Both the clergy and the laity of San Francisco were surprisingly well-represented at the affair.

Saint Patrick's Day

Brother Justin Speaks At Sacramento

Sacramento, March 18, 1870.—Brother Justin, President of Saint Mary's College in San Francisco, was the Orator of the Day at the Saint Patrick's Day ceremonies held here yesterday.

Following a lengthy procession, solemn High Mass was said at Saint Rose's Church by Reverend Father Motter of Stockton as celebrant, Father Gibney as deacon, and Father Scanlan as sub-deacon. Father Scanlan preached the sermon on Saint Patrick.

Main feature of the day was held at the Metropolitan Theatre because of weather conditions. Brother Justin delivered his oration, which was followed by brief addresses from Assemblyman M. S. Horan, the Honorable J. E. Murphy, of Del Norte and the Honorable James W. Coffroth.

Rain did not deter the Irish of this city and nearby communities from attending in large numbers. It was one of the largest demonstrations ever seen in this city.

COLLEGE HAS GOOD LOCATION

San Francisco, Dec. 22, 1868.—The new College of Saint Mary, located on the old Mission road is situated in a very pleasing location, students of the institution have been heard to remark. Away from the strife of the city the students are able to devote themselves to the obtaining of a worth-while education under the capable direction of the Brothers of the Christian Schools.

The necessity for a Catholic institution of higher learning has long been realized by the far-sighted Archbishop and through his efforts this worthy addition to the educational facilities of the West has become a reality.

Commencement Exercises of Saint Mary's College

A Lengthy and Varied Program Was Presented

San Francisco, June 5, 1872.—Eleven students were honored at the Ninth Annual Commencement Exercises of Saint Mary's College today, upon the recommendation of the Board of Trustees.

A lengthy and varied program was presented. Among the outstanding presentations were "Lochiel's Warning," presented by Hugh Gallagher and Bart Oliver. James C. Dunphy sang the "Minstrel Boy" and the College Choir of sixty voices rendered "Pange Lingua Lauda Sion," and the Benediction Hymns. This, in the opinion of the critics, was the most notable portion of the performance.

Degrees were presented to J. Alpheus Graves, A.B.; James J. Lawler, B.S.; Diplomas in the Commercial Department were given to Edwin J. Murray, Edward Sweeney, Hugh McAvoy, Herman A. Kellum, Thomas Donelin, Thomas P. Sullivan, Edward O'Connor, James W. Duffy, and John P. Camou.

THE FIRST MEETING

College Board of Trustees Meets For First Time Under the Direction of Christian Brothers

San Francisco, May 29, 1872.—First regular meeting of the Saint Mary's College Board of Trustees was held today in the College library.

Brother Justin was elected president of the board while Brother Sabinian was named Treasurer of the Board.

A vote of thanks was offered the State Board of Education for their assistance in obtaining action on the Charter granted last January.

A committee was appointed to draft the By-Laws for the government of the board.

On the recommendation of the Faculty, the Board decided that the degree of Bachelor of Arts be conferred upon Alpheus J. Graves, and that of Bachelor of Science on James J. Lawler.

Commercial diplomas were granted to Edward J. Murray, Edward Sweeney, Hugh McAvoy, Herman A. Kellum, Thomas Donelin, Thomas P. Sullivan, Edward O'Connor, James W. Duffy, and John P. Camou.

Mr. Graves will return to the college to work for his Master's Degress.

CHARTER GRANTED

Saint Mary's College Is Empowered to Grant Degrees

The Legislature Has Conferred the Privileges of a University

It Is a Step Forward

The Christian Brothers Took The College Over In 1868

San Francisco, Jan. 20, 1872.—Saint Mary's College was granted a charter today, empowering it to confer degrees and endowed with all the rights and privileges accorded to a University as a result of an act of the Legislature.

Application for charter was made on 16th of November last year, proposed by Brother Justin, president, and endorsed by Archbishop Joseph Alemany. The petition was first presented to the California State Board of Education and then to the legislature who immediately confirmed it.

Those endorsing the first petition were: Joseph S. Alemany, Archbishop of San Francisco; J. J. Prendergast, Justin S. McMahon, Joseph H. Donahoe, C. C. O'Sullivan, John T. Doyle, and Richard Tobin.

The document asked for "the Incorporation of a College, known as Saint Mary's" situated in this city. It petitioned further: "Praying that Joseph S. Alemany, A.S.F., Justin McMahon, Cianan J. Griffin, Sabinian F. Downey, Genebern F. Steiner, Emelian K. Peterman, Gustavus Fitzpatrick, Permian F. Mohler, Leander W. Hyde, Thomas R. Kane, Peter J. Frayne, Baptist J. White, Augustine A. Faux, Francis J. Champion, and Junianus J. Cayerus, be made the first Trustees of said College."

The charter which was granted today was signed by Newton Booth, President, Board of Education; Henry N. Bollander, Superintendant of Public Instruction; I. H. Widber, Secretary of the State Board of Education; William H. Robertson, George W. Jones, August Grafton, and W. H. Leadbetter.

Granting of the Charter indicates another step forward by the Brothers of the Christian schools. Great progress has been made at the College since the Brothers first took it over in 1868. Enrollment has increased considerably while the faculty has increased in proportion. New courses have been added to the curricula, which is now one of the most complete in the state.

Improvements on the buildings have been many, including several enlargements of the athletic facilities.

Saint Mary's College is the only one of its kind in San Francisco, and has set an enviable record as an institution of learning. It is the opinion of this writer that it will some day be known as the leading Catholic college on the Pacific slope. Graduates from it have set an enviable record and it is a credit to the city of San Francisco.

Some Land Is Purchased

Saint Mary's College Buys a Piece of Oakland Property

A Novitiate Will Be Built by the Brothers

San Francisco, May 28, 1873.—Purchase of a block of ground bounded by Fourth, Fifth, Jackson and Madison streets in Oakland was authorized today at a meeting of the Saint Mary's College Board of Directors.

The ground, formerly the property of Ross Brown, will be used for a day school and Christian Brother's Novitiate, Brother Justin, president, revealed.

A large frame building with smaller structures and a stable occupy the plot, which was purchased for $14,000.

With the permission of Joseph Alemany, Archbishop of San Francisco, small boys now attending Saint Mary's College southwest of the city four miles will be transferred to the new school. The institution will be known as Saint Joseph's Academy.

"I am very pleased with the proposal," Archbishop Alemany stated, "and I am sure that the good Brothers will have the same success in their new school as they have had with Saint Mary's. In my opinion, the Christian Brothers will one day be the greatest force in Catholic education in the west."

Permission to open a school has been obtained from the Reverend M. King, pastor of Saint Mary's Church in Oakland, and repairs will be made to accommodate the novices and two hundred day students, it was stated by the Board.

Brother Gustavus will be installed as Director of the institution, while Brother Pirmian, Master of Novices at Saint Mary's College, will follow his charges to Oakland.

The institution marks another step forward by the Christian Brothers who have already raised education in this area and the state to a high degree.

Archbishop Alemany, in a circular letter to the clergy of the diocese, asked them to second the efforts exerted to encourage young men to enter the novitiate of the Christian Brothers as "the life therein is one most pleasing to God and beneficial to humanity."

In a letter to the parents of the diocese, the Archbishop stated, "You see what I have suffered and what obstacles I have had to overcome to secure the Brothers; now as you love your children you must cooperate with me and my clergy. We cannot save the children without Christian Education. We cannot give the Christian Education without religious teachers. This is the conscientious judgment of your archbishop."

Further expansion of the Brothers was indicated, although no definite policy or statement was made.

Mission Dolores

It Celebrated Its Centennial Commemoration

There Was a Parade

The Christian Brothers Were Guests of Honor

San Francisco, Oct. 10, 1876.—Observation of the Centennial Commemoration of the founding of Mission Dolores was made in this city yesterday, with dignitaries of the Church and State in attendance.

Solemn Pontifical Mass was offered by the Right Reverend E. O'Connell of Marysville, beneath the arch of the historic Mission. Brother Justin, president of Saint Mary's College, the faculties of the College and Sacred Heart College, and their students occupied positions of honor at the ceremonies.

Aides to Grand Marshall James R. Kelly led the parade immediately after Mass and were composed in great part of the graduate and senior students of Saint Mary's College.

In the Third Division of the parade, escorting His Grace, Archbishop Joseph S. Alemany and Bishop O'Connell, were the colorful Cadets of the two colleges. Riding their own horses, and wearing brilliant and beautiful equipment, the students were the outstanding feature of the division.

Moving from the Old Mission, the parade proceeded to Mechanics Pavillion on Larkin Street, where the literary program of the day was presented. Among the vocal numbers was a chorus of over a hundred young gentlemen from Saint Mary's and Sacred Heart Colleges, both schools of the Christian Brothers, under their Superior, Brother Justin, president of Saint Mary's.

The chorus rendered "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean," a composition by Lambilotte, and the "Star Spangled Banner." A commemorative poem of fourteen eight-line stanzas, composed by Harriet M. Skidmore, was read by Bartley P. Oliver, a graduate of Saint Mary's with the class of 1873.

The pageant was the gayest and most colorful of any seen in San Francisco in recent years, with thousands of persons witnessing the picturesque display. It gave marked evidence of the progress of the Catholic Church in California, through her missions and through institutions such as Saint Mary's and Sacred Heart College.

ANOTHER COLLEGE

San Francisco, Jan. 15, 1874.—Sacred Heart College, a Christian Brothers' institution, was opened today in this city. School authorities report that the Archbishop has long desired the opening of such a school.

Brother Cianan, vice-president of Saint Mary's College, has been appointed the director of the new institution. The school is located at Eddy and Larkin streets.

A DEDICATION

Sacramento, July 15, 1876.—Efforts to bring the Christian Brothers to this city were brought to a successful close today with the dedication of Catholic College located at 12th and "K" streets.

Archbishop Alemany officiated at the dedication ceremonies, also delivering a few well chosen remarks. Governor Irwin and Brother Justin were other speakers on the program.

The new college was financed through a subscription list opened earlier in the year. The new institution has been placed in charge of Brother Cianan.

A RESIGNATION

Saint Mary's College Loses An Instructor

HE WAS A COMPETENT MAN

San Francisco, March 7, 1884.—Saint Mary's College lost one of its pioneer teachers today with the resignation of Mr. Lawrence Taaffe.

Mr. Taaffe became associated with the local college in 1869 upon the recommendation of Brother Justin, president, who had known him at Saint Louis. According to college authorities, Mr. Taaffe exerted a great cultural influence upon his students. He was a conscientious worker and a good counselor.

His merits were recognized by election to the Board of Trustees during the directorship of Brother Justin in 1880. He was formerly assistant to Brother Cianan in the 2nd collegiate, teaching natural science and mathematics. He later taught composition and literature, at which time he was moderator and president of the Justinian Literary Society.

Mr. Taaffe left Saint Mary's to accept a teaching position at Sacred Heart College in this city, operated under the direction of the Christian Brothers. He will also do part-time teaching in the public schools.

Brother Justin

He Is Reelected President by the Saint Mary's Trustees

San Francisco, May 28, 1879.—Brother Justin was reelected president of the Board of Trustees of Saint Mary's College at a meeting of that group today.

It was revealed at the meeting that a piece of property, known as the Bush Estate, has been purchased by the Finance Committee for Educational purposes. The property has been named "Villa de la Salle." What use, other than educational, the Board intends to put the land to was not revealed. The possibility of further expansion of the Brothers was neither confirmed nor denied. It is known that the group wishes to found other institutions to take care of the great demands which their position as educators of note has placed them.

Further developments on the action of the Board is expected within a few months.

President Elected

Saint Mary's Chooses Brother Bettelin

San Francisco, Jan. 24, 1880.—At a special meeting of the Board of Trustees of Saint Mary's College, Brother Bettelin was elected President of the corporation and of the College.

Brother Bettelin came out from the east recently to fill the position vacated by Brother Justin, who returned to accept a higher position.

A resolution of thanks to Brother Justin was introduced by Brother Humphrey, seconded by Brother Sabinian.

Brother Justin has left a big space in the pedagogical horizon of the West which, to fill, requires a mind and heart of no ordinary calibre.

No new policies or plans were announced at the meeting, although plans for the future will undoubtedly be announced when the Board holds its regular meeting in May.

A Board Meeting at Saint Mary's College

A Committee Is Established

San Francisco, May 5, 1880.—Resolution to establish a committee for the investigation of the courses in the various schools of the district was fostered at the regular meeting of the Board of Directors of Saint Mary's College by Brother Bettelin, elected President of the Board earlier this year.

The aim of the committee, according to Brother Bettelin, was a possible coordination, aiming at economy and efficiency. The scheme aims at establishing a bond of fellowship among the colleges of the Brothers system, Brother Bettelin stated, and graduates of smaller institutions would be able to continue their work in uniform surroundings.

It was approved by the Board and will be adopted for use in the future. No other important business was transacted at the meeting, though the minutes were not made entirely public.

CHRISTIAN BROTHERS

They Celebrated Their Bi-Centenary Today in This City

It Was a Great Tribute to the Teachers

San Francisco, June 24, 1880.—What is probably the most prominent teaching Order of the Catholic Church celebrated its bi-centanary today.

Brothers of the Christian Schools throughout the world, commemorate today the founding of their institute. With schools in all parts of the globe, thousands are joining in a universal thanksgiving and celebration.

In San Francisco the Brothers have risen to prominence rapidly since they first arrived by steamer in 1868. No known force has been so influential in educational circles in this region as have they.

Solemn Pontifical Mass was celebrated this morning in the Saint Mary's College Chapel by His Grace, Joseph Sadoc Alemany, D.D., Archbishop of California, assisted by the Reverend Dennis Nugent, Deacon and Reverend Peter S. Casey as sub-deacon. Father Newman served as Arch-Priest. The Very Reverend John Prendergast, V. G., delivered a masterly oration.

The mass was sung by the College Choir, under the direction of Professor Schorcht.

After the celebration of the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass, the Officials of the Mass, seventy-one priests who assisted in the Sanctuary, the faculty of Saint Mary's, a number of visiting Brothers, a number of honored guests, among them Count Oliver, William Dunphy and James Donohue, retired to the refectory where a banquet was served.

When the courses were well run, S. Piercy arose and recited "And Is That All?" His Grace, the Archbishop, who acted as toastmaster, made a short address and then proposed "Saint John Baptist de la Salle," to which Brother Bettelin, recently elected president of the college responded.

The Reverend William Gleason spoke at length on "The Christian Brothers." Zach Montgomery, well-known throughout the west, spoke enthusiastically on "Christian Education" from his own standpoint, condemning the growing dechristianized public school system.

At the proposal of Brother Justin's health, a prolonged ovation greeted the speaker. The Reverend John F. Harrington responded to the toast: "The Catholic Press," while the press in general was spoken for by one of its representatives.

The banquet commenced at 11:30 a. m. and ceased at 7 p. m.

Never in the history of this city has such a tribute been paid to any religious organization such as the Christian Brothers. Praises of the Order were loud and long. Commended for their fine work in education, the Brothers received the plaudits of the leading citizens of the state, both lay and ecclesiastic.

Cleric's Meet

Two Ecclesiastics Honored At Salt Lake City

Salt Lake City, Utah, Nov. 3, 1883.—His Grace, Joseph Sadoc Alemany, Archbishop of San Francisco, met with the newly appointed Co-adjutor Archbishop of San Francisco, Patrick William Riordan, D.D., today in this city.

Co-adjutor Archbishop Riordan has been appointed to assist Archbishop Alemany in the duties of administering to the faithful in the See. He will assume his duties upon arriving in San Francisco.

Archbishop Alemany greeted the new assistant very cordially, and together with the priests of Utah, welcomed him to the west.

The two ecclesiastics will proceed to San Francisco at once. No new changes in program or policy were announced at the meeting and very little was said regarding the immediate future of the Church in California.

Whether or not Archbishop Alemany will retire, as he wishes, was not indicated.

A Fine Reception

Archbishop Riordan Was a Visitor at a Local College

He Was Honored by a Program

San Francisco, Nov. 15, 1883.—One of the first institutions to honor the new Archbishop of California, Patrick William Riordan, D.D., was Saint Mary's College, known as "the pride of the Archbishop."

Reception for the new archbishop was held in the study hall, appropriately decorated for the occasion. Brother Romauld, Director of the House, presided, thereby establishing a precedent. Never before has the Director been toastmaster at such an affair. Brother Romauld came to this city in 1883.

As Archbishop Riordan and Archbishop Alemany entered the reception room, a tremendous ovation greeted them. Brother Romauld arose and delivered an address of welcome, praying God to give him health and a length of years on the Pacific Coast. He invited him to come often to the college and extended the best wishes for success. His speech was interrupted frequently by applause from the audience.

Following the address of welcome, the College Choir sang "Vivat Pastor Bonus." Thomas Grady spoke on "Christian Charity," after which the orchestra, under the direction of Professor Schort, rendered a selection.

Other numbers on the program were selections by the Glee Club; Essay, "The Church of America," James Bartlett; and Orchestral Selection.

His Grace then thanked the Faculty and students for their kind welcome and paid a high tribute to Brother Romauld whom he has known for eighteen years.

After giving the assembly his blessing and granting the students a half holiday, he partook of a repast in the refectory.

Among the guests were the Very Reverend J. J. Prendergast, V. G., and Reverend J. Sasia and J. Neri, S.J.; and Fathers O'Neill, O.P., Sullivan, P. Breslin, and Goyle. Brother Bettelin and pioneer Brothers were present. The reception was stated to be one of the finest to be offered the new archbishop.

Martinez

Martinez, Jan. 27, 1880.—Property purchased here by the Christian Brothers nearly five years ago will be used for a novitiate, authorities of the order have revealed.

Formerly known as the Bush Estate the property was purchased for educational purposes and was renamed "Villa de la Salle" at the time of purchase.

Brother Alexander Back

He Was Formerly on the Saint Mary's College Faculty

San Francisco, July 23, 1884.—Brother Alexander, formerly of the Saint Mary's College faculty, returned this month to take up duties as sub-director of the Community and Professor of higher Mathematics.

Brother Alexander was in Brother Justin's first class and was taught the Classics by Father Gleason. He was first a member of the staff in 1871, remaining until 1876. He is considered to be the best mathematician in California.

Founder's Day

Confirmation Was Administered At Saint Mary's by the Archbishop

San Francisco, May 4, 1884.—His Grace, Archbishop Riordan, today administered the sacrament of Confirmation in the Saint Mary's College Chapel.

The day was chosen because it is the Feast day of Blessed John Baptist de la Salle. Annual administration of Confirmation is a traditional custom of the Brothers' Colleges and was introduced at an early date in this city.

Founder's Day was celebrated with pomp and ceremony of both religious and social nature. The sacrament was administered immediately after Solemn High Mass at 9 o'clock this morning.

Pupils of Saint Joseph's College also participated in the ceremonies. It was the first official act of Archbishop Riordan who replaced Archbishop Alemany recently.

Property Purchased By Christian Brothers

They Will Build a School In This City

Oakland, Aug. 13, 1886.—Thirty-two lots of land situated on Broadway in this city were conveyed to the Saint Mary's College Board of Trustees by Francis S. Wensinger, it was learned here today.

The lots, four of which were purchased from the Academy Homestead, were turned over for a consideration of $22,000. The four lots of the Academy Homestead Tract were purchased for $14,000, two days before they were to go under the hammer at public auction.

A street runs diagonally through the property, covering an area of some twenty-five square rods. It is expected that the Brothers will petition the Oakland City Council to close the street to public use as it destroys the usefulness of the land for a college.

Plans for the new edifice, which will be modelled after a hotel-plan cut into a school, will be in the hands of J. J. Clarke, San Francisco architect.

THE PRICE OF BRICKS RISES

Oakland, Nov. 10, 1886.—Following the announcement of the proposed building of the new Saint Mary's College, price of brick in this city went up to $8.00 a thousand in every plant.

It is expected that the brick-work will be done by contract.

The Last Visit

Archbishop Alemany Is Honored at Saint Mary's College

He Will Depart Soon

San Francisco, April 30, 1885.—Archbishop Alemany paid his last visit today to the college which has meant so much in his life. Saint Mary's College, the great Gothic pile southwest of the city, famous for the prominent men who have come from her halls of learning, will lose her best friend when the Archibishop leaves in May, to return to the simple life of a missionary priest.

Always a favorite project of the Archbishop, he was responsible for the founding of the college on the Mission Road. It was he who was responsible for the Christian Brothers coming to the Coast in 1868. After going to Europe in search of capable men to direct his college, Archbishop Alemany finally obtained a mandate from Pope Pius X, enabling him to bring the Brothers to the west.

Through hard years and favorable, he has always been a part of the life of the college. His fondest hopes were realized when the Brothers established themselves at Saint Mary's.

With the combined efforts of the Archbishop and the Brothers, Saint Mary's is now the leading institution of learning in the San Francisco region. Enrollment has increased, courses have been enlarged, and every effort has been expended to make it an excellent college.

At his last visit to Saint Mary's, a valedictory was read and a silken sheet of words in tribute to His Grace was presented him. The message expressed to His Grace the great respect, admiration and love the Brothers had for him, and their gratitude for all that he had done to make their work easier.

Archbishop Alemany's departure is regretted by all who knew him. He has done much for his Church. Succeeding him will be Archbishop Riordan, who arrived here recently to assume the duties of Co-adjutor Archbishop.

The City Council Closes a Street

It Runs Through College Property

Oakland, Sept. 20, 1886.—A street running diagonally through Saint Mary's College property was declared closed to public today by the City Council.

The action came as a result of the request of the Christian Brothers, who are to operate and own the new school, formerly in San Francisco.

Appearing before the body as a representative of the college, Brother Walter, F.S.C., successfully argued the case on the merit of the establishment planned on the adjacent properties and strongly urged the inutility of the street, because of the extension of Broadway, which was completed some time ago.

H. Hayes, President, announced the decision of the Board in favor of Saint Mary's College

Our Cardinal

A Delightful Reception to Him at Saint Mary's College

Remarks Made by His Eminence—Speeches of Welcome in Various Tongues—Decorations of the College Hall

San Francisco, Oct. 2, 1887.—His Eminence, John Cardinal Gibbons, was the honored guest at a reception tendered him by the faculty and students of St. Mary's College today.

Originally scheduled to officiate at the laying of the cornerstone of the new college in Oakland, Cardinal Gibbons was unable to take part in the ceremony due to illness. As a result of his indisposition, the program was shortened. Addresses which were not delivered were presented to the Cardinal.

Commencing at 1:30 p. m., the exercises were held in the large hall of the college, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion.

Immediately on the arrival of the coaches containing the Cardinal Primate and his suite, the Christian Brothers in charge of the college and the large body of students advanced to meet him. The Cardinal Primate then advanced to the college hall, attended by His Grace, Archbishop Riordan, of this city and by Brother Bettelin, Rector of Saint Mary's.

Only two of the scheduled addresses were given, one in English and the other in Latin. The remainder were presented in written form to His Eminence, the Cardinal.

The program as originally scheduled included Overture, Globe March, College Orchestra; Address of Welcome (English), John J. Burns; Vivat, Pastor Bonus, Choir; The Month of October, (essay), Edward T. Dempsey; Address (Latin), Jerome B. Hannigan; Magnificat, Choir; Infidelity (essay), Joseph T. Noonan; Address (Greek), Daniel R. Murphy; "Twilight Belle," Quartette, L. B. Hannigan, P. Oviedo, J. V. Sullivan, P. W. McGlade, J. F. Noonan; Address (German), Charles B. Feige; Address (Spanish), Francis F. Flores; Te Deum, Choir; Address (French), Louis P. Oviedo; Finale, "Quick Step," Orchestra.

In conclusion, the Cardinal expressed his regret at being unable to hear the entire program. He urged the young gentlemen to strive to counteract the fatal tendency of the times to divorce religion and learning. He urged further love of country, loyalty to the church, and the necessity of study leading nearer to God.

A banquet was served following the shortened program at which His Eminence and several guests sat.

BEAUTIFUL CEREMONY

John Baptist de la Salle Is Honored

Christian Brothers Hold a Solemn Triduum

IT LASTS THREE DAYS

San Francisco, Feb. 17, 1889.—A Solemn Triduum, lasting three days in honor of the beatification of John Baptist de la Salle ended yesterday.

The ceremonies, which attracted attention throughout the state, were held at Saint Mary's Cathedral in this city. Never before has the Cathedral been so beautifully decorated as it was for this celebration. Every pillar in the long nave was covered with red silk, edged with gold braid. The gallery was draped with red velvet.

About the high altar were tall palm trees, white lilies, numerous tapers, candelabra of silver, and the walls around the sanctuary were decked in red velvet. In the chapel of Saint Joseph to the left of the main altar a picture of Blessed John Baptist de la Salle was exposed for public veneration.

Solemn Mass was celebrated at ten o'clock by Reverend Peter C. Yorke, assisted by Reverend John E. Cottle as deacon, and Reverend John J. Sullivan, rector of the parish of Sonoma, as sub-deacon. The clergymen were robed in costly vestments of cream white brocade, magnificently embroidered with golden arabesques and edged with gold fringe. The Mass was served by two acolytes and twelve torchbearers, the Master of Ceremonies being Reverend T. W. Blake, the Archbishop's Secretary.

Among the clergy present were Vicar-General J. J. Prendergast, D.D.; Reverend George Montgomery, Chancellor of the Archbishop; Very Reverend Father Callaghan, O.P., Superior of the Monastery of Saint Dominic; Reverend Father Galliani and Mr. William Culligan, S.J., of Saint Ignatius College; Reverend J. J. Cranwell, assistant rector of Saint Mary's Church, Oakland; and A. de Campos, Chaplain of Saint Mary's College.

All the Brothers and most of the students of Saint Mary's, Saint Joseph's and Sacred Heart schools were present, as were also the pupils of Saint Vincent's, in charge of the Sisters of Charity. The body of the Church was filled to the doors with residents of the parish and friends of the Christian Brothers who had come to celebrate with them the beatification of their founder.

The music during the impressive service was of unusual excellence. The fine choir had been greatly augmented and to the deep tones of the organ was added the pleasing accompaniment of the entire Trivoli Orchestra.

The Mass sung was Lambillotte's "Missa Pascale" in D. Major. Father Prendergast delivered the sermon on "Canonization."

At 7:30 p. m., the united choirs of Saint Mary's and Sacred Heart Colleges sang solemn vespers under the leadership of Professor A. C. Eimer, the Cathedral Choirmaster, and Brother Hosea, choir-master of the Sacred Heart Chapel. The sermon in the evening was preached by Reverend J. E. Cottle. His theme was "The Christian Brothers."

Attendance at the imposing services of the second day of the solemn Mass the aisles were packed with a throng of kneeling worshippers.

Among the clergy present were delegates from the Franciscan and Dominican Monasteries, and from the Jesuit College; Reverend George Montgomery, Chancellor of the Archdiocese; Very Reverend Vicar-General Prendergast, and the remainder of the Cathedral clergy; Reverend O. Rendudier of the French Church; Reverend A. de Campos, Chaplain of Saint Mary's College; Reverend J. Cassidy of St. Paul's Church; Reverend M. Sullivan, Rector of Redwood City, and a number of visitors from country parishes.

Solemn High Mass was celebrated by Reverend John E. Cottle, assisted by Reverend Peter Yorke, deacon, and Reverend Felix Barbier, sub-deacon. Reverend P. Blake officiated as Master of Ceremonies. Reverend William J. Walsh of Saint Joseph's Church, delivered the sermon on "Two Creations."

In the evening the choirs of the Christian Brothers and their Colleges sang vespers as on Thursday night. The Sermon was delivered by Reverend William Gleeson, Pastor of Saint Anthony's Church, East Oakland.

Blessed John Baptist de la Salle

On the third day of the imposing services of the Triduum in honor of Blessed John Baptist de la Salle the Cathedral was crowded at both principal services.

Besides the Cathedral clergy, numbers of priests from various city and country parishes were in attendance. Among them were the Very Reverend Joseph Sasia, S. J., Provincial of the Society of Jesus on the Pacific Coast; Reverend Vincent Chippa, S. J., of Saint Ignatius College; Reverend Father Fitzimmons, O.P., of the Dominican Monastery; Reverend Alejandro de Campos, Chaplain of Saint Mary's College, and numbers of the secular clergy.

Solemn Mass commenced at 10 o'clock, Reverend P. Blake celebrating, assisted by Reverend Father John E. Cottle as deacon, and Reverend Mannes Doogan, O.P., sub-deacon. Vicar-General Prendergast was Master of Ceremonies. Reverend George Montgomery, Chancellor of the Archdiocese delivered a sermon on "Christian Doctrine."

The Solemn Triduum was brought to an impressive close on Friday evening. Reverend P. Yorke delivered an eloquent sermon on "Man's Ideal."

Solemn Vespers was sung by the choirs of Sacred Heart and Saint Mary's choirs and the hymn, "Este Confessor", chanted. At the end of the solemn Thanksgiving, the Benediction hymns were chanted and the Triduum ended with Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament.

The three-day ceremonies were probably the most impressive ever seen in this city and were attended by thousands.

College Rises

Members of the Faculty Help to Construct the Edifice on Broadway

The Cornerstone Was Laid Today

Oakland, Oct. 24, 1887.—Members of the Saint Mary's College faculty actively participated in the building of the new college on Broadway, it was revealed today.

The 2,500,000 bricks used in the construction of the most modern institution in the bay area were laid under the direction of Brother Adrian, whose knowledge saved the college a great sum of money.

Carpentering on the structure was done under the supervision of Brother Julian, who besides being an outstanding instructor, has a mechanical training of a high order.

Brother Walbert, who served as an Engineer in the Civil War, did the grading of the lot and the campus, and supervised the steam heating installation and the sanitary conveniences.

The cornerstone of the building was laid today with much ceremony. Thousands attended.

The school of the Christian Brothers was formerly located in San Francisco, where it was established nearly a quarter of a century ago. With its most modern buildings and wonderfully complete curriculum it cannot be doubted that Saint Mary's College is the leading Catholic institution of higher learning on the Pacific Coast.

Money is Raised to Build a New College

Over $15,000 Has Been Donated

San Francisco, Nov. 26, 1888.—According to a Treasurer's report of Saint Mary's College over $15,000 has been raised towards a new school, to be built in Oakland.

Institutions and communities contributing to the fund are listed as: Sacred Heart College, Brother Genebern, Director; Saint Peter's, Brother Baptist; both of San Francisco. In Oakland, Saint Joseph's Academy, Brother Sabinian; Saint Patrick's, Brother Lactian; Sacred Heart, Temescal, Brother Hugh, the Sacramento Institute, Brother Cianan; Saint Michael, Portland, Ore., Brother Michael; the Novitiate, Martinez, Brother Pirmian.

Other contributions are Brother Adrian, who is named as the donor of a lot at Folsom and Sixth streets, San Francisco; Brother Julius, property in Victoria, B. C.; and Brother Walter, who is named as being responsible for a total of $2700.

Because of the development of the present site of Saint Mary's College the Christian Brothers believe that the purposes of education can best be served by moving to more spacious quarters on the opposite shores of San Francisco Bay. The growth of Saint Mary's College since its founding here has been almost unbelievable, thereby fulfilling a prediction made by the Archbishop Alemany that Saint Mary's would some day be the Catholic leader of the West.

Confirmation at College

Archbishop Confers Sacrament

San Francisco, May 4, 1889.—His Grace, Archbishop Riordan, administered the sacrament of Confirmation at Saint Mary's on the Mission Road for the last time today. Next year will find the college at its new location in Oakland.

As in the past, the Feast of the Founder, Blessed John Baptist de la Salle was the day chosen for the ceremony. Confirmation was given following Mass.

A reception was tendered His Grace following the services in the large hall. An original poem was read, and an address of welcome given the Archbishop.

Interest in the affair did not reach the heights that it has in the past since attention was centered on the new college across the bay. The cornerstone of the new institution is scheduled to be laid early in August, with Church and state officials in attendance.

It is quite apparent that Archbishop Riordan is taking the same fatherly interest in the development of Saint Mary's College that characterized the very Reverend Archbishop Alemany, who conceived and carried into execution the idea of a Catholic college in the West. It was also due to the efforts of Archbishop Alemany that the Brothers of the Christian Schools came west shortly after the opening of the College of Saint Mary, as it was then known, to take over the teaching duties of the now widely famed Catholic institution.

DEDICATION OF THE NEW TEMPLE OF LEARNING IN CITY BY GOLDEN GATE

The Societies Present

Multitudes of People Witness the Dedication Ceremonies

Oakland, Aug. 11, 1889.—Close to 15,000 people attended the dedication exercises of the new Saint Mary's College in Oakland yesterday, presided over by His Grace, Archbishop P. W. Riordan, D.D.

Brilliant sunshine flooded the campus as visiting crowds inspected the new buildings and facilities which are the most modern in the bay area.

At 3 p. m. Archbishop Riordan drove up the avenue in his carriage through a long line of young men from Catholic organizations. Lined on both sides of the avenue, in full regalia, were members of the Young Men's Catholic Union of San Francisco numbering over 2000. Named in the order in which they appeared were Loyola, Leo, Saint Joseph's, Dolores, Saint Dominic's, and Saint Brendan's assemblies.

The First Regiment Band, which led the parade of young men, played a welcoming selection before the dedication ceremonies commenced.

As the Archbishop and the Young Men's Catholic Union passed into the building, spectators completely packed the halls and parlors of the first floor. A procession was formed with difficulty from the temporary vestry to the chapel.

Opening the services the college choir, under the direction of Brother Hosea, sang the "Veni Creator." Blessing the chapel, His Grace the Archbishop planted the cross of Christ upon the altar.

A procession headed by the Archbishop, attended by the Reverend George Montgomery and Father Blake, was formed. After the chanting of the "Asperges," the interior and exterior were blessed with the customary rites and liturgy of the church.

Completing the dedication ceremonies, the Archbishop and priests retired to the terrace in front of the main entrance, while the Reverend William Gleeson of Saint Anthony's Church, Brooklyn, delivered the sermon.

Father Gleeson stressed the necessity of moral culture in the education of youth. In the opinion of Father Gleeson the celebration was not of ordinary character. Few institutions, he said, had excited so much interest as Saint Mary's. He also stressed the many advantages of religious training over the merely educational. In closing, Father Gleeson impressed upon the faculty the great charge that was theirs in conducting the affairs of the college.

The procession marched back to the chapel where the "Te Deum" was sung, formally closing the exercises of the day. Luncheon was served in the new refectory.

Among the clergy who assisted Archbishop Riordan were: Reverend J. J. Prendergast, Vicar General; Reverend George Montgomery, Chancellor; Fathers Gray, Valentini, O'Neill, McGinty, Birmingham, Brennan, Sasia, S.J.; Leonard, Scanlan, Duffy, Nugent, A. Varsi, S.J.; D. O. Crowley, John Cassidy, John Neri, S.J.; John Cottle, James Flood, Isidor Gey, O.S.F.; C. Schoenwalder, O.S.F.; M. J. Lagan, Lawrence Breslin, P. O'Connor, James Fitzpatrick, all of San Francisco; J. J. McNally, M. J. White, E. J. Doran, T. J. McSweeny of Oakland; P. Griffin and Lawrence Serda, Temescal; Thomas Phillips, Berkeley; M. McNaboe, Alameda.

The college, which cost $250,000, will be open to receive students on Thursday. Registration for students in lower and upper divisions will continue until the next week.

The new college is located one mile outside the center of Oakland, and is bounded by Broadway, Webster and Hawthorne streets. Situated in an area of seven acres, it has a frontage on Broadway of 190 feet, with wings on each end 150 feet each. The architecture is modern Renaissance. The height of the building is 110 feet, having five stories in all. The length is 180 feet. The chapel, not completely finished, is situated on the south side. Study rooms are so arranged that they form one large hall for exhibition purposes.

The second story contains class rooms, library and community-rooms. Situated in the south wing is the library.

Brothers' apartments and student dormitories are located on the third story, with clothes-rooms and wash rooms. The dormitories number two and are 40 by 115 feet and 60 by 75 feet.

Private rooms, infirmaries, etc., will be located on the fifth floor. A dumb-waiter and passenger elevator, operated by steam, extend throughout the building. Each of the 104 rooms is in direct communication with the President's office by a system of electric bells. The entire building has been constructed of brick and stone, with terra cotta trimmings. There are thirteen class rooms.

Work on the structure was begun early in 1887. On the third Sunday in October of that year, the feast of the Holy Rosary, His Grace Archbishop Riordan laid the cornerstone. Reverend J. Sasia, S.J., preached the sermon.

Previous to the college's entrance into Oakland, it was for 26 years located in San Francisco. It has been owned and operated by the Brothers of the Christian Schools. This is the second of two Catholic institutions to be dedicated in the recent months, the College of San Rafael having celebrated its founding recently. Archbishop Riordan presided at the dedication.

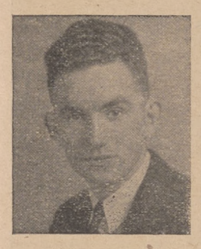
Action to Limit Attendance At Dance Taken

Upper Classmen Given Preference by Vote Of Executive Group

Action to limit the attendance at tomorrow night's supper dance with the Dominican College of San Rafael to upper division men was taken by the executive council committee handling the affair at a meeting held in the first part of the week.

All students attending the dance will be charged a fifty cent admission fee to aid in defraying the expenses of the evening, student body president Lawrence Mana stated.



Tom Sheridan

More than 75 students from the San Rafael school are expected to attend the campus event which will be held in the college dining hall commencing at 8 p. m. and lasting until midnight.

Tomorrow night's dance is being tendered to the students of Dominican College by the ASSMC in return for an affair held at the transbay institution last spring.

Music is to be provided by Jack Kelly's orchestra, a nine-piece unit, which played at the Knights of Columbus dance held in Madigan gymnasium.

Day students planning to attend tomorrow night are asked to contact Tom Sheridan, Jack Reilley or Al Quittman so that reservations can be arranged.

Boarders should make arrangements with Jerry Seale or Lawrence Mana, who are handling the campus details.

Jerry Seale, chairman of the committee handling the event, is being assisted by Lawrence Mana, Jack Reilley, Tom Sheridan, Al Quittman, and Larry Webber, of the executive council.

Juniors Discuss Dance Details At First Meeting

Leo Englert Named Chairman of Prom Committee

Leo Englert of Alameda was appointed chairman of the Junior Prom committee by President Jack Williams at a meeting of the junior class held last Friday.

The greater part of the meeting was devoted to a discussion of dance plans. Williams reported that the idea of hiring a "name" orchestra had been abandoned because of the fact that no orchestras of this type will be in the bay region before Lent Three other orchestras will be auditioned.

Leo Englert

Selection of the dance site was also discussed, with some debate taking place concerning the relative merits of holding the dance at a hotel or a country club. The matter of favors was also gone into. Nothing definite was decided on any of the points discussed, but another meeting was scheduled for next week.

A report on the Santa Clara postgame dance sponsored by the class was submitted by Bob Fleitz who stated that the affair had lost fifty-five dollars.

Joe Crosby

Joe Crosby, business manager of the Gael, told the class that the Gael was not receiving the proper co-operation from the class. One hundred and twenty-five out of the one hundred and fifty Gaels sold have been purchased by freshmen,

Frosh Schedule Thank You Dance For February

Will Be Held at Hotel Oakland

Freshmen will hold their "Thank You Dance" on February 4, in the Ivory Court of the Hotel Oakland, from 9 until 1 a.m. Frank Well's twelve-piece orchestra has been contracted to play for the dance, Bob Skibinski, freshman class president, announced. Two vocalists are featured.

Bids are $1.10 per couple and may be obtained from members of the freshman class. Skibinski announced that all others outside of the freshman class who sell ten bids will be admitted to the dance free of charge. The dance will be an informal affair.

Committee on arrangements include Bob Skibinski, Bob Johnson, Bill Egan, and Joe Englert.

To insure the success of the Junior Prom, the date for the social event was moved back from February 11 to February 4.

A meeting of the Freshman class was held yesterday at eleven o'clock. The purpose of the gathering was to collect remainder of raffle funds, to issue dance bids, and to acquire the approval for the plans made.

Peace Club Membership Enlarged By Addition Of New Members

Two members have been added to the International Relations Club, Paul Alston, head of the organization, stated yesterday.

Joseph Donnelly and Alvin Quittman, junior students, are the new members of the club.

The purpose of the group is to promote good will and understanding between the nations of the world. Each year delegates from the local club are sent to an annual peace convention which is attended by students from nearly all the universities and colleges in northern California.

Members of the club who attended the last peace convention held at La Goya Lodge over the Thanksgiving holidays were Paul Alston, Richard Moore, and Earl Fleming.

Offer of Journalism Trophy Is Made By Assistant Recorder

A perpetual cup was offered this week by Thomas Twomey, assistant recorder, to be used in the 1938 convention of Catholic High School Journalists of California, as an award for the most outstanding individual contribution in Catholic High School Journalism.

This cup was offered first in the spring of 1936 to the Press Club for the annual convention. The club became defunct at that time, however, and the convention was not held.

Thomas Twomey

Last year, the convention was revived by the staffs of the COLLEGIAN and Gael. Since no advance notice was given, the cup was not presented for competition.

Twomey announced that he would renew his offer of the cup if the convention is held again this year.

The cup is named in memory of the donor's sister, Julia Twomey.

Foch Debate Is Arranged

Local Men Uphold Affirmative

Topic and date for the annual Foch debate, sponsored by the Alliance Francaise of San Francisco, were selected at a meeting of the debate heads of Santa Clara and Saint Mary's last week.

The week of March 20 was selected as the date, subject to the approval of the Alliance Francaise. No location has been announced. "Resolved: That France has made greater contributions to world culture than has England," was chosen as the subject.

Gael Assessment Is Levied On Junior Class

Lack of Cooperation Forces Radical Action, Says Editor

At a meeting of the junior class, Friday, it was suggested that each member would be assessed fifty cents as a down payment on the 1938 Gael, junior class publication.

"This move may be necessary because the juniors, and also the seniors, have done very little to further the progress of the annual and are not co-operating," John Sullivan, Gael editor stated.

Jack Williams

Leading salesman is John Saunders, a senior boarder. Joe McCarthy, junior, leads in day student sales. McCarthy, though now a boarder, will continue to contact the commuters. Other salesmen are Leo Englert, Dick Hester, Herb Smith, juniors; Ted Smythe, and Jack Madden, seniors.

Because of conflicting dates, photographs for the Gael will not be taken today as previously announced, but will be taken the following week, Wednesday, January 26, Sullivan said.

This will definitely be the last chance for the remaining 50 students who have failed to be photographed, to do so, the editor indicated. Date for the group pictures is still tentative.

For the sittings, lower classmen must wear coats and ties; juniors, white shirts without ties; and seniors, caps and gowns.

Irish Society Moves Into Headquarters In Sophomore Hall

Club rooms for the use of the newly formed Irish Society were secured this week on the top floor of the Sophomore dormitory, it was disclosed by Ted Smyth, president of the organization.

The rooms have been decorated by the members of the society, and were completely furnished for the meeting held last night. The rooms are decorated and furnished in harmony with the spirit of the society.

At the meeting last night plans were made for the proposed Saint Patrick's Day celebration to be held on the campus, March 13. Speakers will be secured for the event although all of them have not as yet been announced. Smyth said this week that the members of the club are waiting for word from two of the most prominent speakers in the bay region before announcing the selection. However, Brother Leo, Brother James, and Brother Albert, if he is on the campus at that time, have consented to participate in the program.

Also on the program for the day's celebration will be track and field events, a skit now being rehearsed by the members, and a dance in the gymnasium in the evening featuring Irish music and dances.

Debating arrangements for the semester were discussed at the meeting and Smythe said that a number of engagements are now being made.

Economics Association Plans Visit to Industrial Plants

Visits to various business concerns are being planned by the Economics Association, with complete details to be settled at a meeting this week.

Plans of the association include trips to the San Francisco Stock Exchange, Federal Reserve Bank, San Francisco Clearing House, a San Francisco sugar refinery, Petri Cigar Company, Golden State Creamery, Foster and Kleiser Advertising Company.

Charter Day Banquet Will Follow Jubilee Mass in Oakland

Impressive Ceremonies Mark Coram Pontifice Mass At Saint Francis de Sales

The greatest demonstration ever held in honor of the Christian Brothers on the Pacific Coast was opened this morning with the celebration of a Solemn Mass, Coram Pontifice, commemorating the granting of a charter to the College of Saint Mary sixty-six years ago in the city of San Francisco.

Signalizing the beginning of a series of celebrations in observance of Saint Mary's Diamond Jubilee year, today's ceremonies will be concluded with a gigantic civic banquet to be held this evening at the Hotel Leamington in Oakland.

Representatives of every institution of higher learning in Northern California, dignitaries of church and state, were present at the Pontifical Mass celebrated this morning at Saint Francis de Sales Church in Oakland.

Brilliantly robed members of the clergy, members of the college faculty, members of the alumni association students of two colleges, and friends of Saint Mary's marched in the procession that opened the day.

One hundred and fifty students from the College of Holy Names, wearing the traditional cap and gown, preceded an equal number of upper division students of Saint Mary's, similarly attired, in the solemn procession.

President Gives Charter Day Plans At Meeting

Brother Albert Asks For Cooperation In Staging Jubilee

Called primarily to announce plans for Charter Day celebrations, the first student body meeting was opened Monday by Lawrence Mana, student body president.

Brother Albert, president of the college, was the main speaker of the meeting, opening his talk by extending good wishes for the new season. He praised the students' loyalty during 1937 and thanked the student body for their Christmas gift.

Comparing the old Brick Pile with the present site of the college, Brother Albert mentioned the disadvantages of the former. "We now have an institution comparable in its academic offerings and opportunities to any in the country," the president stated.

The Charter Day celebration and the Diamond Jubilee was first mentioned when the president stated, "This is our year of jubilee—our year of joy." A very brief history of Saint Mary's College then followed.

Plans Outlined

Immediate plans for the celebration were then outlined by the speaker, stating that the mass would commence at 10:30 at Saint Frances de Sales Church in Oakland, and that upper division students would march in academic attire. "This church was selected because it was the parish of the old

A buffet lunch at about 2:00 o'clock in the school dining hall after the celebration would be arranged for the boarders, the speaker indicated.

Charter Day Dinner plans were followed by a brief mention of the activities in the ensuing months.

"We must start this week with a bang—this is the Jubilee Year," the president said, concluding his address with, "May this year be the year of years for all of us."

Other Speakers

Other speakers at the meeting were Ed LaBerge, yell leader; John Sullivan, Gael editor; Paul Johnson, of the A. P. G. U.

LaBerge spoke on school spirit in connection with the current basketball season. He pleaded for more interest in the game and more cooperation with the yell-leaders.

Sullivan discussed the progress of the Gael, annual publication of the junior class. He asked that the students pay their 50-cent deposit fee as soon as possible.

Johnson, speaking on the Brick Pile, student literary magazine, asked for more contributions.

Mention of the Dominican College Supper Dance was made by Mana, announcing that a 50-cent charge would be levied on the students to help defray expenses of the affair.

A poll was taken to determine if boarding students desired the continuance of campus movies. No opposition was heard, so Mana announced that Coleman Kezeli would continue with plans for the shows.

An award for three years' service as a varsity debater was presented to Ed LaBerge by Lawrence Mana.

ALWAYS it is the desire of columists to get something big to write about, something about which everyone knows but would enjoy reading more about, and something on which the columist can expand without having to use too much "stuffing." And so it is with pleasurable expectations that the Sketcher this week tackles one of the biggest things on the campus.

John Saunders

John William Saunders, standing six feet three inches in his bedroom slippers matriculated to Saint Mary's four years ago and weighed in for the frosh football squad at 280 pounds. He prepped at Bret Harte Union High School in the old mining town of Angel's Camp where he did post-graduate work before considering further education. He was offered a scholarship at College of the Pacific, but turned it down to attend Saint Mary's for his first year and liked it so well he decided to continue.

Never highly succesful at guard or center position on the Gael varsity, John found a place on the Phoenix nine in his sophomore and junior years effectively handling the duties of catcher.

Aside from his athletic prowess, "Shifty" has steadily drawn high grades in his major, Economics, and his minors, Education and History. It is his ambition to be first, a Certified Public Accountant, and second, a stock rancher, although present openings lead him to believe he will be more inclined toward the former with practical experience gained in the employ of Pacific Gas and Electrical Company.

During the summers John has always found employment near his home of Vallecita and has added materially to his experiences by working as a lumberman, an iceman and a miner in the high Sierras. On the campus, too, has he found labor near at hand. Becoming proficient in gardening under the tutelage of Herr von Wetter for three semesters, John was foreman of all the students engaged in horticultural pursuits until last year at which time he was transferred to the dining hall.

Now, a senior, John is slated to graduate in May at approximately 220 pounds, having made an excellent record as a student and athlete in the past four years. Saint Mary's has endowed him with a shrewd appreciation of knowledge, which, coupled with his inherent good humor and quiet attitude makes it certain that his graduation will take from Saint Mary's one of its best-loved characters.

We sincerely hope that "Shifty" will come by all that he is working for, two years of graduate study at a state university and a long career in the world of business and a degree of success in proportion only to his own dimensions.

Knights of Columbus

ORGANIZATION HISTORY COMPILED

In 1931, a group of enthusiastic Catholic students banded together and planned the formation of a campus council of the Knights of Columbus. A petition was sent to Martin H. Carmody, Supreme Knight, and W. J. McGinley, Supreme Secretary, by this group of students asking permission to form the college council. The permission was given and on April 16, 1931, the first meeting was held under the new charter.

Presiding at this initial meeting were Timothy J. O'Brien, recorder of the Berkeley Council, and his son, Charles O'Brien, warden of the same group.

Since that first constructive meeting in 1931 that saw Grand Knight Canty start the campus society off toward being what it is today, eight more students have sat in the chair as Grand Knights, and as the membership increased to more than double that of the original enrollment, the council has become more active from year to year. Under succeeding Grand Knights Robert Franke, Joseph O'Reilly, Ed Mahan, Phillip Quittman, Mario Gaione, Jack Fissori, Joseph Alioto, and Victor Wilkiemeyer, the campus Knights have added constantly to their prestige and through the sponsoring of social and religious affairs of importance have risen to a top ranking among the college societies.

Brother Bede Edward

In 1933, the State Convention of the Knights was held on the local campus under the direction of Frank J. Harry, at that time State Deputy of this state. The great importance that the young college group were beginning to play in the affairs of the Knights was evidenced at that time by the decision of the councils of the state to meet here.

Vic Wilkiemeyer

During the past few years, the local Knights have aided materially the college glee club by securing engagements for the group, and have also helped in the work of the Saint Vincent de Paul Society and the Society for the Propagation of the Faith. Last year the members collaborated with Father Louis Miller, a member of the council and pastor of Saint Isadore's Church in Danville and Saint Mary's Church in Walnut Creek, in a benefit for the two parishes.

During the last semester, the campus Knights attained a membership of over fifty members, which, according to the constitution of the student body, entitles them to a member in the Executive Council. They are at the present time the only local society so honored and represented.

Site for Prom Announced

Selection of a San Francisco country club as the site of the junior prom appeared probable, Jack Williams, president of the junior class, said yesterday.

Several clubs in the transbay area were inspected by Williams last week, and a favorable report was received on the Millbrae Country Club located on the Bayshore Highway about seven miles from downtown San Francisco.

No action on the matter of choosing a location will be taken until all suitable sites have been veiwed by Leo Englert, recently appointed chairman of the prom committee, Williams said.

Parker's Television Pen does for You

Both have what it takes to give people SECOND SIGHT

The Parker Vacumatic is a modern marvel that holds 102% more ink than our famous Duofold and lets you SEE the ink in the barrel—shows at all times how much ink you have to spare. Hence, it won't run dry unexpectedly like "blind barrel" pens.

A College Professor invented this Pen because he knew that you can't focus your thoughts on your subject, if you're wondering whether your pen contains enough ink to finish the job in hand.

Even worse is to have a pen run dry at some critical moment, rile your blood and muddle your mind. Compared with what you lose by these mental tumults, the price of this revolutionary Parker Vacumatic is only a trifle.

A jewel-like pedigreed Beauty with shimmering laminations of alternate Pearl and Jet, a wholly exclusive Style—a weight that's lighter than light—a shape that's restfully slenderized.

Holds 102% more ink THAN OUR FAMOUS DUOFOLD

Not merely modern in Style, but thirty years ahead in mechanism. A patented Guaranteed-Perfect Pen with a SACLESS Diaphragm Filler that abolishes 14 parts still found in old-style fountain pens.

Go to any good pen counter and see the new Major and Maxima Vacumatics——de luxe models with slenderized shape, enlarged ink capacity, 33⅓% more Gold, and new self-governed flow.

Try Parker's inspiring scratch-proof Point of Platinum and Solid Gold, Iridium tipped. And look for the smart ARROW Clip—that's the mark of highest excellence in a fountain pen, and identifies the genuine Parker Vacumatic. The Parker Pen Company, Janesville, Wis.

Gael Gossip

by BILL BETTENCOURT, Collegian Sports Editor

TWO defending champion basketball quintets, Stanford of the exclusive and elegant Pacific Coast Conference and Saint Mary's of the despised California Intercollegiate loop, is the main reason why Stanford's cracker-box-like gym will be jammed Saturday night.

Because Stanford's homely little gym seats only 3200 the SRO sign is expected to be hung up early in the day. Of course, there are other reasons why a full house is anticipated at Stanford: (1) Angelo (Hank) Luisetti, (2) Harlan H. Dykes, (3) the Dykes-John Bunn feud, and (4) both teams are expected to win their respective league titles again this season. (Santa Clara paper please copy!)

Coach John Bunn of Stanford

It has been a long time since a Galloping Gael five has come back to Moraga with the scalp of the Palo Alto Indian. In their last invasion of the Farm, some 12 months ago, the Bell Ringers succumbed, 50 to 23.

Jimmy Underhill was the coach of the Gaels then . . . and he had only seven men with him at Stanford. Dykes now is the local mentor . . . and he will have 15 men at his disposal.

This doesn't mean he will use all of his charges. Don't be surprised if only five Gaels play the entire game. Because the second and third teams will play against Pacific Friday at Stockton . . . and whether the Gaels win or lose this conference engagement from the Tigers depends solely upon the second and third quintets.

The first five will not see action Friday, being saved for their toughest assignment of the season the following evening.

Stanford dealt burning punishment to Sam Barry's Trojans in their first game last weekend. But, if USC played the same way against Saint Mary's, we'd immediately put our money on the Dykesmen to win.

Southern California's defense Friday reminded us of a little boy trying to fill a paper bag with water. And Troy's slow-breaking offense for Stanford was like taking candy from a baby.

The Indians worked two defenses against the LA team . . . three men were used in the back court, employing a zone. When USC came within distance of sure set-shots, Stanford shifted to a man-to-man.

If Saint Mary's uses the fast break Dykes has been teaching in practice this week, the Cardinals won't have time to start with a three-man zone in the back court and then change. The offensive action of the Moragans will be too swift.

Saturday's tussle should be one of the best of the season. Don't let any Stanford propaganda fool you . . . you know what we man, about Bunn playing only his second and third teams.

Bunn loves to defeat a Dykes team . . . and vice versa. Bunn, remember, was the man who halted the entrance of Saint Mary's and Santa Clara into the southern division of the Pacific Conference.

Hence, expect to see Luisetti and the Stanford regulars in the ball game . . . because without Luisetti and his four playmates, Stanford cannot expect to beat a Saint Mary's team which has been pointing for this game since Dykes started practice last October.

Let's Play Gael-Bear Game in Oakland!

"It is time for the ASUC management to think seriously of moving the California-Stanford series to the Oakland auditorium arena, used for basketball competition before the present gymnasium was built.

"The larger size of the arena would permit ticket authorities to allot better tickets to students, consolidate the rooting section, reduce exorbitant student prices, and sell more general admission tickets."

Thus spoke the Daily Californian recently. May we ask the Californian why it begins and stops with the Stanford series? Why not change the Saint Mary's-California classic on February 5 to the Oakland Auditorium?

The two traditional rivals always bring a banner crowd to the Berkeley gym. Because the quintets only meet once this season instead of three times, Berkeley will be unable to accommodate all the fans who desire to see the battle on February 5.

Saint Mary's would favor the change . . . and so would the paying public. After all, the customer is always right!

Introducing San Jose, a New and Natural Rival

Because of conflicting open dates, the Gaels and San Jose State's Spartans will not meet next fall. But you can expect to see San Jose on the 1939 schedule of the Gaels . . . and perhaps every year after that.

The relations between Saint Mary's and San Jose are most friendly, we understand. In addition to the two colleges being natural rivals, Saint Mary's recognizes the fact that San Jose slowly is becoming an intercollegiate athletic power.

Every year the Spartans are represented by top-flight golf, tennis, swimming, boxing, basketball, baseball, and football teams. At the present time, the Gaels and Spartans meet in golf, tennis, basketball, and baseball.

Because the two are unable to get together next fall, Saint Mary's was forced to sign with Portland, a not so lucrative opponent. A Saint Mary's-San Jose game either in San Jose or at Kezar, is a better attraction and a better show than a Saint Mary's-Portland tussle.

Take our word for it, Portland will be dropped in 1939——unless the Pilots upset the Gaels, which would be embarrassing.

Unofficially the Gael schedule for the fall goes like this:

California at Berkeley, September 24; Gonzaga at Kezar, October 16; San Francisco at Kezar, October 23; Fordham at New York, November 5; Santa Clara at Kezar, November 13; Oregon at Kezar, November 24, Thanksgiving Day, and Villanova, December 4.

With the exception of the California, Fordham, and Oregon games, all tilts will be played on Sundays. Which is just dandy!

Picking Targets for More B.B. (Sports) Shots . . .

After the game Saturday, let's eat an drink at John's, 2005 University Avenue, Palo Alto . . . The owner is John Ragno, father of Larry, frosh cager . . . (Thanks for the plug, Bill. Help yourself!) . . . Don't our cage managers look something awful without being properly attired? . . . It was the same for the football managers . . .

Jimmy Underhill, ex-Saint Mary's coach, was the umpire of last Sunday's pro game at Kezar . . . Bill Dooms, it appears, is the popular choice to lead the Gael golfers and tennisers . . . A go-getter, Dooms should fill Bill Smith's shoes capably . . . And he's only a junior . . . His job calls for much sacrifice . . . And co-operation . . . He'll get it from the COLLEGIAN, which hopes to boost all minor sports. . .

In the dailies, Dykes predicted the Trojans and Cardinals would split their series . . . They did . . . Now he says USC will take two out of the last three . . . Of course, Bunn having stopped the Gaels and Broncos from gaining admittance into the Pacific League has nothing to do with Dykes' predictions . . . Not at all . . .

Now is the time to take unto oneself a bride, it seems . . . Last Saturday it was Ned O'Loughlin . . . This Saturday, O'Laughlin's team-mate, "Sunny Jim" Austin, will be the bridegroom in Oakland . . . We still are wondering why "Swede" Anderson is being called "Seabiscuit" by some . . . Stanford's yearlings are none too good this season, having dropped their last two to Lowell and Stockton high schools . . .

Those new suits of our basketeers are just about the last word in collegiate cage togs . . . We suggest: the Gaels should make their entrance onto the court while riding steeds . . . Oh, well . . . Once again we wish to thank Al Santoro and Bud Tehaney of the Post-Enquirer sports staff for their kindness . . . Not once have they refused to give the COLLEGIAN mats of pictures that ran in the Oakland paper . . .

Pacific, Idaho, and Nevada are dropped in favor of Portland, Oregon, and . . . which is a good drop . . .

Gaels Seek Indian Scalp Saturday

Tangle With Pacific Tiger Friday in League Game

Dykesmen Prepare for Busy Weekend, Hope to Beat Reds with New Defense

By Bud Brady

ON TAP for Harlan Hebe Dykes' patriotically-clad basketeers is a busy weekend, for Friday night the Gaels engage the Pacific Tigers at Stockton and on Saturday will attempt to be the third team this season to down the Stanford Red Shirts.

Although Saint Mary's beat Pacific, 35-to-18, in the first game between the two, the Gaels are expected to have a tougher time in Stockton, playing on a small and strange court.

The annual Gael-Indian contest will be played down on the Farm, where the Gaels hope they can accomplish the difficult task of stopping Hank Luisetti and his supporting cast.

Dykes is confident his stragetic defenses can halt the high-powered Stanford offensive thrusts.

Height, height, height, and height will be thrown at the Gaels in the persons of four towering Redwood tress from Palo Alto—Luisetti, Phil Zonne, Art Stoefen, and Bruce Calderwood.

Saint Mary's has won five and has dropped a couple.

Following are the numbers of the rival players in Saturday's big game:

39 Bob Zonne, g.	16 Meitz, g.
42 Heath, c.-g.	17 McSweeney, g.
3 Andrade, g.	18 Baysinger, f.

Horace Lee, a mere midget alongside his teammates, plays the fifth position, a guard.

Dykes hopes to fell those Redwoods with an unannounced defensive on which he has been drilling his cagers secretly for two weeks.

The Gaels will be badly out-sized, but they hope to opercome this with a fast-break and a close-fisted defense.

Although ragged at times, the Moragans at various stages of their season have displayed fiashes of razzle-dazzle that were eye-pleasers. Perhaps the Gaels will enjoy a state of perfection Saturday night.

Perhaps they may not drop or toss away passes on their downcourt surges. If they display a more clever handling of the ball than they have to date, they should carry the fight to John Bunn's Stanfords.

But the Stanford game will be the tenth tilt for Saint Mary's. The system as Dykes' teaches it—a flashy, quick-breaking affair—necessitates times for the players to become accustomed to its workings.

Lack Confidence?

It is not that the players may not have mastered the formations. It still remains that they may not perform it with confidence, without hesitation.

This year no few cagers must bear the brunt of the attack for the Gaels. Last season Bunn started his second string and found the opposition leading at the half.

Luisetti and mates entered the contest and swamped a tired and outmanned Gael club, 50-to-23.

Height for the Gaels mainly will stand in the shoes of Larry Minahen, "Blazing Al" Andrade, and "Swede" Anderson.

Andrade should display his uninterrupted minute-for-minute basketball, which can be called nothing but hounding the ball, which makes him the backbone of the Gaels up and down the court.

Temple and U. S. C. Score Victories Over Stanfords

Stanford's defending Pacific Coast conference champions will be favored to beat Harlan Dykes' Gaels when the rival teams tangle on the hardwood floor of the Palo Alto gymnasium next Saturday night.

The Indians have played nine games and have one more to play before they meet Saint Mary's. The Gaels have played seven, with one more coming up. While Stanford is meeting California Friday, Saint Mary's will be batting Pacific.

Stanford has won seven and lost two;

Former Gaels Star For All-Americans Against Pro Champs

Former Saint Mary's football players starred in last Sunday's pro game at Kazar stadium, which was won by the Washington Redskins, 14-to-13.

Six of the 13 all-American points were made by Jim Austin in the fourth quarter when he caught a pass and rambled unmolested over the goal line.

DOOMS TO HEAD GAEL GOLFERS AND TENNISERS

Saint Mary's golfers and tennis players met this week and appointed Bill Dooms, a junior, as their leader and organizer. Dooms will appear before the Executive council this afternoon to ask the student legislative body to make the appointment official and give him powers to represent the two groups of local athletes officially.

Dooms is not expected to encounter any trouble, and it is believed the appointment will be made official.

To carry on the two sports this semester, at least 75 will be needed, according to Dooms. Of this amount, the golfers take $50, 35 going for green fees, and the other $15 being taken by transportation costs, hole assessments, and meals.

The $25 for tennis will be spent in purchasing balls and transportation.

How the necessary amount will be raised, Dooms is uncertain. He expects to receive cooperation from the athletic office and from the student body.

Members of the golf and tennis teams will receive minor sports awards this season, according to present plans outlined by Dooms.

Dooms and Bill Glackin are the only two veterans returning for golf, while the veterans in tennis are George MacPeak, Taay, Taira, Harry Hooper, and Bill Davie.

Hopes to Help Beat Moraga Gaels Again

Looking at you Gaels squarely in the eye is the nation's greatest basketball player, Hank Luisetti, who hopes to help his team defeat Saint Mary's at Palo Alto next Saturday night. The Indians won last year, 50 to 23.—Post-Enquirer photo.

DYKESMEN HAVE BEST RECORD IN LEAGUE

If Saint Mary's beats Pacific Friday night as the Gaels are expected to do, the defending C.I.B.C. champions will be leading this year's race. At present the Gaels and Broncs share the leadership of the conference.

Although the traditional rivals are tied for first place, the record of the Gaels is just a little bit better. In three games played, the Gaels have amassed a total of 126 points as against 85 for their opponents. Against the same three teams, Santa Clara has tallied 119 points as against 87.

Saint Mary's beat U. S. F., 47-33; Pacific, 35-18, and San Jose 44-34. Santa Clara beat U. S. F., 44-37; Pacific, 35-23, and San Jose, 40-27.

Gaels Get Edge

Hence, in each case the scores were about the same, with the edge going to Saint Mary's.

This would indicate that this year's annual and traditional "big series" with Santa Clara will be even affairs.

The Broncs rely on their star, "Toddy" Giannini, for victory. Harlan Dykes' outfit, however, has no one outstanding individual. The Gaels are a five-man team, every member being an important cog in the Dykes machine.

Minahen Leads

Minahen leads his teammates in conference scoring as a result of his 11 points against the Spartans. The complete figures for the three conference engagements follow:

Phoenix to Play Double-Header

Face Mickey's Inn And Robak's Buffet Sunday in Berkeley

Postponed from last Sunday because of wet grounds, the game between the Phoenix and Mickey's Inn will be played next Sunday morning at San Pablo park No. 2, Berkeley, beginning at 11:30 o'clock.

The tilt will be the first of a double-header. The Phoenix will tackle Robak's Buffet in the second game of the twin bill at Kenney park at 2 o'clock.

Double-headers will feature the rest of the Phoenix Berkeley league schedule, Manager Tony Boehle announced yesterday.

Because they won the first-half championship, and now are leading the second-half, the Moraga Phoenix will meet the champs of the Alameda loop in the feature Insurance day game one week from Sunday at the Oakland ball park in Emeryville.

The Saint Mary's baseball slate now reads:

Jan. 23—Mickey's Inn and Robak's Buffet.

Jan. 30—Insurance day game.

Feb. —Eagle Cafe and Albany Merchants.

Feb. 13—O. K. Batteries and Orinda Reds.

Captain Larry Webber and Gene Sullivan loom as two of Saint Mary's greatest sluggers in this spring's intercollegiate campaign, according to statistics released by Boehle.

Two of the leading Phoenix batsmen, Webber and Sullivan are clipping the ball at .500. "Gabby" Stolich, consistent also throughout the Berkeley campaign, is hitting .384.

SHADOWING the GAELS

By Bud Brady - Ass't. Sports Ed.

WHEN are the hard-headed czars of the Pacific Coast conference going to wake up to the fact that Joe Spectator is as important to college athletics as Hank Luisetti is to John Bunn's Redskin cagers?

To them it would appear that the average fan is one who is to be ignored at every turn, inconvenienced when possible, and excluded on still other occasions.

The boys who make the college athletics tick are the fans and yet they are shown no consideration by an obstinate group of ornery conference bigwigs.

We refer specifically to a number of such occasions when Joe Spectator has been denied requests, as if he were a little boy who did not know what was for his own good.

Football season rolls around and Joe Spectator is frozen half stiff by the well known freezeout. The independents are said to be the frozen out clubs, but Joe is seated atop the coldest and biggest cake of ice.

It necessitates very little violin playing to plead Joe's cause in the aforementioned raw deal. Oregon state and Oregon entice few bay region fans through the turnstiles.

Then last year a little salt pouring was flicked in the wounds of the local fan when once again Stanford played Santa Clara and Saint Mary's met California on the same Saturday.

But let's examine current conditions —the basketball setup.

Stanford played U. S. C. last weekend in the Stanford pavilion and but 200 standing room seats were available for the public the evening of the contest.

San Francisco has asked for this and other games time and time again. Ten thousand fans would jam the Civic auditorium to witness just such a battle.

The added expenses would be covered, the conference would realize a very tidy profit and for a change the basketball fan would be given a good deal.

The added income one would think would warm the hearts of our stern conference pilots, but the thought of giving the average fan a break and a treat—of course the customer would shell out his bucks—cools all enthusiasm toward such plans.

Guisto Was a Sensation--Gaels and California Competed in 1898

By Bill Bettencourt

JOE DiMAGGIO today is the Louis Guisto of yesterday! We make this statement after completing a study of the priceless volumes of Brother Agnon's famed scrapbook of Saint Mary's which has been continued by Brother Vantasian since the death of the beloved Brother Agnon.

If you think DiMaggio is great, come with us and turn back the pages of the scrapbook to April 5, 1916, and read:

"To Louis Guisto, Saint Mary's College boy, belongs the lion's share of the glory attendant upon Portland's 6-to-4 victory over San Francisco yesterday in the opening game of the season.

"Much has been predicted about Guisto. All eyes were on him yesterday. It was his first professional ball game. Hitherto he has been at best a semi-pro, or, more plainly speaking, a 'busher.'

"When he came to bat for the first time, two college mates from Saint Mary's advanced with a huge floral horseshoe and a bat with the college colors on it. Guisto blushed and smiled. Everyone applauded.

"By all the rules of baseball and baseball precedent, Guisto should thereupon have struck out or sent up a weak fly. But he didn't. He is an exceptional young man.

"Mr. Guisto calmly noted the first ball pitched to him and poked it into the left field bleachers. The ball bounded right out again, but nevertheless the blow went for a home run.

"Later in the game Guisto smote a double. Still later he had the honor of being purposely passed in order to get at Gus Fisher, a .300 hitter. Can you beat that for a chap playing his first game?"

Hits Three Homers in Two Games

Such was the beginning of a brilliant baseball career for Saint Mary's Guisto—the same Guisto who runs the local co-op. The next day Guisto hit three homers in two games.

"The fans didn't know Guisto's first name when he slammed that pill into the left field bleachers at Recreation Park yesterday, but a lot of them were willing to call him "Dis" Guisto after that torrid blow," wrote one scribe.

Here are a few more quotes about Guisto written before the war:

"Jim Furness says that Guisto plays first base so naturally that he looks as though he was born at that place."

"At the pearly gates, while the home team is playing the visitors:

"Saint Pete: 'Who is it asks permission?'

"Visitor: 'Brother Agnon.'

"Saint Pete: 'All right, Brother Agnon, come right in, but if you have any players with you, you'll have to leave them outside until the game is over. The home team is now in the lead, but if the visitors get a real ball player, such as Guisto and the kind they turn out at Saint Mary's, we don't know what might happen here.'"

"LOUIS GUISTO HAILED AS A BATTING FREAK," reads a headline.

"HITS THREE HOMERS IN ONE GAME," says another.

"PORTLAND FANS DAFFY OVER GUISTO," explains a third.

Yes, sir! DiMaggio is the Guisto of yesterday—and not vice-versa!

Cal Wins in 1898, 51-0

Rambling around through the scrapbook: California defeated Saint Mary's, 51 to 0, in football in 1898 . . . Can any one tell us whether or not that was the first game between the two rivals? . . . California and Stanford started their Big Game in 1892 . . . The first grid tilt with the Broncos was played in 1896, Santa Clara winning, 46 to a touchdown and a conversion, or seven points . . . SC won the second game two years later, 57 to 0 . . . The two didn't get together again until 1909, when the Gaels won in rugby, 5 to 0. . . . SC captured the 1910 rugby game, 7 to 3, and the Gaels came back in 1911 to win, 5 to 3 . . . Another split came, keeping the two from playing until 1922, when Saint Mary's won a 9-to-7 American football tilt . . .

The baseball team adopted the name "Phoenix" in 1879, when the first game was played with Santa Clara, Saint Mary's winning "easily," according to the writeups . . . In 1900 a Saint Mary's gridder died . . . There was no more football at Saint Mary's until 1909 . . .

"If you quit rugby and go back to American football, we'll give you a game every year as long as Saint Mary's plays the sport," California told Saint Mary's in 1915 . . . Thus began the unbroken rivalry between the Gaels and Bears, a rivalry which no "freezeout" will freeze out . . . Stanford and Santa Clara continued with rugby . . . Hence, the friendship between Saint Mary's and California . . . And between Santa Clara and Stanford . . .

In the first track and field meet between the two, Saint Mary's beat Santa Clara in 1909, 12 1-3 to 49 2-3 . . . Now you know . . .

Schwab Forms Rugby Team

Five-Game Schedule Billed for Locals; Practice Next Week

Organization of a Saint Mary's rugby team was announced this week by Bill Schwab, a member of the junior class.

Among those who have signed up for competition are Pete Cassidy, Bill Bloodgood, George Dooley, Bill Glackin. Bob Freel, John Mamola, Ralph Jack, and Hank Franzoia.

Franzoia, a Sacramenta j. c. transfer, is considered an outstanding prospect, according to Schwab, who announces that the capital city athlete has had much experience in playing the sport.

Among those who have donated material for the team is Peter James McMahon, a Sacramento sportsman who is the head of one of the leading soccer teams in Sacramento.

The following tentative five-game schedule has been billed:

Feb. 7—Alameda Elks at Alameda.

Feb. 14—Oakland Hibernians at Oakland.

Feb. 28—Western Pacific at Oakland.

March 10—Sacramento Y. M. I. at Sacramento.

March 27—Stockton A. C. at Stockton.

Practice will begin next Tuesday.

Austin to Marry Oakland Girl

At a ceremony to take place at the Fruitvale (Oakland) Congregational church next Saturday, ex-Gael football player Jim Austin will marry Miss Esther Abrott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Phillip Abrott of Oakland.

Austin, now a member of the Brooklyn Dodgers, National pro league team, hails from Hollywood.

Students Coached Teams In Old Days at Brickpile

By Leo Haggerty

This week the college is celebrating its diamond jubilee in full bloom, and it seems fitting at this time to turn back Father Time and review the athletic situation during the late 1800's an dthe early 1900's.

With the assistance of Brother Vantasian, former athletic director, and now the postmaster, we will try and refresh your memory.

In 1896, the Saints had a football team, but didn't have a coach. Brother tells us that the turf problem was a bitter one for the Pink and Blue, this being the old colors with the Red and Blue gradually coming in.

He even tells us that the football players coached the squad, using their own systems and plays.

In 1909, the Gaels turned to rugby with "Mother" Howe acting as coach. After tussling with this sport for two seasons, Saint Mary's introduced American football. After Howe, Otto Rittler was appointed head coach. Rittler now is athletic director of the Alameda Union high school.

After Rittler there is somewhat of a question mark. According to the Brother, a Southern Pacific brakeman, a graduate of Dartsmouth university, became coach.

In 1927, a California gridder named Wilson became the leader. The next year a Georgetown university football player took the position, but he was ousted because his coaching elements were only fair. Then came into power Slip Madigan, who has held the position ever since 1922.

During the year 1912 to 1921, Saint Mary's barred Santa Clara from their gridiron schedule. The athletic directors for this period were Brother Vantasian, Professor Jim Hagerty, and Professor Louis LeFevre.

Like football, the baseball team started off with no coach. The first mentor was Park Wilson, who was followed by Al Chase, Eddie Burns, Walter Mails. In 1916 and 1917 Madigan took the diamond sport, and he later was followed by Louis Guisto, Red Strader, and Earl Sheely, who is the present coach.

According to Brother Vantasian, probably the greatest baseball game in the history of the school was played in 1914. This year Saint Mary's defeated the Boston Red Sox and the University of California in one afternoon. Tiny Leonard pitched the opener, winning 1-to-0, and Mike Kann won the second, 6-to-0.

There was no Pacific Coast Conference in the old days.

Seeks Indian Scalp

One of Saint Mary's leading scorers is Larry Minahen, forward. Minahen will be in the starting lineup for the Gaels when they face Stanford next Saturday night at Palo Alto.

Gael Cagers Break Even in 1935

In 1935 Saint Mary's won her first basketball game from the University of California in 11 years, according to Brother Agnon's scrapbook. And in 1935 Harlan Dykes' Santa Clara team defeated Saint Mary's in the opener by using only five men.

Gaels Win Third Conference Game

Minahen Tanks 11, Meitz Gets 10 as San Jose Loses

Led by Larry Minahen, who tanked 11 points, and Ken Meitz, who rang the bucket for 10, the Gael courtsters won their third straight California Intercollegiate conference victory Wednesday night at the San Jose Civic auditorium, the final score being 44 to 34.

At no time during the game were the Moragans in trouble. After "Swede" Anderson initiated scoring festivities for the night with a field goal, San Jose tied it at two-all in the first two minutes. And that was the closest the Spartans came to winning.

At half time the Gaels led, 25 to 12.

Saint Mary's took 61 shots at the basket, according to COLLEGIAN statistics. Of this number, 19 were converted into field goals.

The Gaels played smart offensive and defensive ball. On defense, the local quintet held the San Jose team to a half dozen field goals during the first half.

Passes were intercepted on numerous occasions by Meitz and by "Whizzard" Jenkins.

But Branch Bobbitt, like so many other independent experts, prefers Luckies . . .

"AT AUCTIONS in my warehouse in Farmville, North Carolina," says Mr. Branch Bobbitt, "the higher the tobacco sells for, the better my profits. So I'm always glad to see Lucky Strike buyers in there bidding. They know what they want and they'll keep bidding right up until they get it.

"Well—in a cigarette—it's the tobacco that counts. I know tobacco and I know what tobacco is in what cigarettes. So that's one reason I've smoked Luckies for 5 or 6 years."

Mr. Bobbitt represents the "aristocracy" of tobacco experts. He judges the tobacco that the growers grow. He's impartial, not connected with any cigarette manufacturer.

Many other experts agree with Mr. Bobbitt. Sworn records show that, among independent tobacco experts, Luckies have twice as many exclusive smokers as have all the other cigarettes combined.

Greetings

TO SAINT MARY'S!

RICHMOND, the largest city of Contra Costa County, sends greetings and best wishes to Saint Mary's College, the county's only college, on the occasion of its Diamond Jubilee.

The City of Richmond and Saint Mary's College complement one another—naturally.

As an industrial community, Richmond centers its attention on material prosperity as exemplified in bigger payrolls and a better living standard for all its citizens.

As a center of the higher learning, Saint Mary's College deals with the moral, spiritual, intellectual, and cultural values without which man's life is incomplete.

Material prosperity and education are both fundamental, and they find their finest expression in the City of Richmond and Saint Mary's College, each the outstanding institution of its kind in this county.

Richmond will continue its effort to provide a foundation for the better life in material things, and will look to Saint Mary's College to give our people the background of culture that makes men rich indeed.

May Saint Mary's long continue its distinctive work. And may its past successes be dimmed by more glorious successes in the years to come.

VOL. XXXV — Founded 1903 — NUMBER 17

1863 — DIAMOND JUBILEE YEAR — 1938

"They that Instruct . . ."

Tribute is paid today to a great cause . . . the cause of Christian Education. In the 17th century there was founded an order known as the Brothers of the Christian Schools. The man responsible for the founding of this organization was hailed as a saint in France at the time of his death. With him, education took a great step forward, and kept going forward. His system was not confined to France alone for it became a far-reaching, Catholic system which has done much to direct the destinies of men, to shape their lives that they may be pleasing to God.

Seventy-five years ago there arose from the reddish-colored earth on Bernal Heights in San Francisco, a great building. It was the project of the Most Reverend Joseph Sadoc Alemany, Archbishop of Alta California, a tireless worker in the cause of Christian Education. The building was dedicated as the College of Saint Mary. Its growth was rapid, but the necessary effort to build this new college into a far-reaching influence was too great for the members of the San Francisco clergy.

Thus it was that Archbishop Alemany set out from brawling San Francisco, then a town with all the vices of a city, to find men who would direct the destinies of his College of Saint Mary. He searched the nation—and found no one capable, no one interested. Failing in the United States, which was then recovering from the effects of a disastrous Civil War, he went to Europe.

There it was that he found the Christian Brothers, continuing the great work of Saint John Baptist de la Salle, the founder of their Order. The Brothers, not unnaturally, hesitated to venture into the new west, for fearsome tales had come out of the region concerning the nature of the inhabitants and country. Little was known of this new place. Nevertheless, at the request of Pope Pius IX, they consented to bring their gifts to California.

And so it happened that one fair day, the tenth of August, there were listed among the passengers from the East, eight Brothers of the Christian Schools. Received by the Archbishop and feted at a banquet attended by the clergy of San Francisco, the men took over the College of Saint Mary the next day. Determination to serve brought success to their efforts, and the College of Saint Mary prospered.

Since all schools of the Christian Brothers had the power to confer degrees, Brother Justin sought from the State of California a Charter. This was granted on January twentieth, 1872. Saint Mary's College, as it was now called, was granted all the powers of a University.

From the day that the Christian Brothers took over, from the very day that the cornerstone was laid in 1863, Saint Mary's led in educational fields. Graduation ceremonies were the delight of proud San Franciscans. Three-day public examinations brought astonishment even to a doubting press. Accomplishments were many.

From this period on, Saint Mary's never lagged. There were hard times and good, periods of struggle to maintain the high standards of Saint John. But obstacles were overcome, and the system of the saint was spread throughout the west. In Oregon, Washington and California schools of the Christian Brothers sprang up to continue the work of Christian Education. Sunday Schools were organized in San Francisco through the efforts of the Brothers. Novitiates were established to train men for the great work begun in the 17th century.

Larger and more modern facilities were sought and established. Always progressing forward, the Brothers at last established their college in one of the most modern plants on the Coast. There the great work continued, bringing to all men who sought it, a true education, a Christian Education. The seventy-five years of Saint Mary's College were years of successful effort and happiness.

Today, the College celebrates the signing of its Charter, and commences a celebration of its Diamond Jubilee. It is a tribute, not to the college alone, not to the many great and good men that it has produced, not to the Christian Brothers alone, who made it what it is today—a leader, but to that kindly, pious Saint who established the Order in the 17th century. Through all the world his system has been spread by the efforts of his followers.

And so it is that we salute Saint Mary's College, Mother of Men, a symbol of progress, and a leader in Christian Education. From far and wide men come today to celebrate a momentous occasion. In all parts of the nation, and abroad, men rejoice today that Saint Mary's College can celebrate its founding by a record of continued progress and accomplishment. The story is not finished, for Saint Mary's goes on, through trials and tribulations, striving ever for a great goal. The story is not finished . . .

"They that instruct many to justice shall shine as stars for all eternity."

People Who Live . . .

PEOPLE who live in glass houses, our elders have told us, shouldn't throw stones, old shoes, bottles or even harsh criticism.

Underclassmen, particularly the sophomores, who have been accused of many things, mostly inactivity, are the only students who have given full support to the 1938 Gael. The yearling class, showing a commendable spirit of co-operation have likewise supported the annual. Both groups, according to a sales report issued by the yearbook staff, have done their part in making production possible.

On the other hand, the juniors, who are supposedly backing the book, still have thirty-five to go before a full sale is completed. Seniors, who wailed loudly and at considerable length for Gael support last year, have purchased a bare half dozen! These two classes were among the first to berate their brethren earlier in the year for inaction. Figures seem to reverse the picture. Now it's the lower division's turn to look down their collective noses and laugh quietly. Apparently the seniors have forgotten the vigorous campaign they waged last year. And obviously, the junior class feels that the venture is a private one, involving a handful of classmates.

Publishing a book of the size and quality of the Gael is not possible without the co-operation of the entire student body. Salesmen ask only the fifty-cent deposit, which is no strain on any purse. The least that students can do is to give that deposit, and give it now, in order that the book may be published on schedule. The possibility of the annual not coming out cannot be taken lightly. The book cannot be made truly representative of the college unless sufficient funds are on hand.

In this, the Diamond Jubilee Year, every effort should be expended to make the 1938 Gael a bigger and better publication.

And to the juniors and seniors, it wouldn't be a bad idea to follow the example set for you by the underclassmen.

Moraga Musings

Concerning the Jubilee Edition, of which this section is a part . . . the oldest type used is known as Columbia, and came around the Horn in the early days of California . . . the make-up was styled as closely as possible after front pages of the period about which they are written . . . it was impossible to cover all the data on hand, only the high spots being written-up . . . style in writing, in most instances, is also copied after the time . . . headlines were duplicated as often as possible, and the type copied . . . four men did all the writing, with several covering the advertising . . . apologies, we are told, are offered at not being able to do a better job . . . time was short.

Presidential candidates have tipped their hands slightly in a few cases . . . for instance, it looks as though a certain junior class president . . . guess who . . . has ambitions along those lines . . . and has there even been a Gael editor that didn't toss a head-piece into the well-known ring?

All we know is what we hear.

Did you know that Taylor Bedilion, senior Lothario and favorite at an east bay institution, has never had his name in the All-Knowing-One's column . . . and who knows what goes on during these many excursions of said Lothario?

Eddie Burns, if B. B. Shot Bettencourt, the Pride of San Leandro, hasn't already told you, is the third in line of a baseball family . . . grandfather and father were all big-time ball-players.

Press agents are sore at H. Hebe Dykes because they can't make a legendary figure out of him . . . he does it unaided and without the use of mirrors or any mechanical device . . . and he takes more interest in his players than is usually seen in coaches of any kind.

Outlooks and Insights

AT TIMES it looks as though much of our higher education is intent only on the mass production of slaves with white collars. Undue and excessive concentration on courses designed to help in the art of "getting on" makes only trained monkeys skilled in little more than putting pennies in their little caps—pennies that for the most part do not stay there. The ideal of always working for somebody else is at root the ideal of a slave. Better were it for our colleges to look to the molding of men—leaders potential with the insight and independence of leaders. Mr. Ludwig Lewisohn wrote wisely in "Up Stream":

How Leaders Are Made

"A democratic community, in order to be free, wise, self-governed, needs minds that are so—minds that will think closely, resist delusions, discriminate, and really will and choose. An historic and philosophic culture is, in a democracy, no longer a luxury or an accomplishment. It is a bitter necessity. Lacking it, the group life is at the mercy of every odious folly, of every brazen demagogue, of every machine boss, of every catchword. But how shall we persuade our masters, the hardwareman and the undertaker, that what John and Wesley need for good citizenship, for honest citizenship, in the plain and literal sense, is not more skill, but history, philosophy, economics, literature,—a spiritual background, a sense of values, a vision of man's life, of 'Florence, Weimar, Athens, Rome'?"

Shakespeare and Catholicity

RECENT scholarship has definitely established the fact of Shakespeare's Catholic antecedents and Catholic associations. The poet's great-aunt, Isabel, had been Mother Superior of a convent at Wroxhall. His mother, Mary Arden, came of a conspicuously Catholic family, at least one member of which—Shakespeare's own cousin—was a veritable fanatic for the Faith. Shakespeare's father, John Shakespeare, was heavily fined for not attending Protestant services. Among the schoolmasters who presided over the Stratford Grammar School which the young Shakespeare attended was Simon Hunt, a priest who died in Rome in 1585.

The clouds of uncertainty and potential scandal hanging over Shakespeare's marriage to Anne Hathaway are dispelled by the theory, not lacking in substantiation, that the contract was ratified in the presence of a proscribed Catholic priest. That Shakespeare—especially in his London days—was what we currently call a practical Catholic is highly improbable. The life of a player in Elizabethan times did not conduce to godly living, and facilities for practicing the Catholic Faith were all but nonexistent. Nevertheless, Shakespeare's friend and patron was the Catholic Earl of Southampton to whose house in the Strand came scholars and dignitaries from the Continent. The testimony of the Protestant Archdeacon Davies that Shakespeare "died a Papist" cannot be dismissed as idle gossip or empty conjecture.

However he came by it—partly, I suspect, from home training and association with other Catholics in Stratford, a notably Catholic town even in Protestant times; and partly from his wide and voracious reading in the library of the Earl of Southampton—Shakespeare possessed an accurate knowledge of Catholic teaching and Catholic practice. The ghost in "Hamlet," for instance, is an indubitably Catholic ghost. In the same play that pregnant soliloquy of King Claudius when he attempts to pray is a remarkable reverberation of Catholic theology. As to Catholic customs in other lands, Shakespeare knows more about them than most of his present day commentators.

There, for instance, is that matter of "evening Mass" in "Romeo and Juliet." Everybody knows that nowadays Mass is not celebrated in the evening; and everybody knows as soon as he reflects on it that Mass originally was celebrated in the evening,—we have the testimony of the Gospel and Saint Paul's Epistle to the Corinthians for that. What most people do not know is that the custom of evening Mass, though frowned upon by Rome, in some places lingered long; and that in Verona, the scene of "Romeo and Juliet," the forbidden practice continued even as late as the beginning of the nineteenth century. Friar Laurence was without doubt a good Franciscan, but likewise a good Veronese, and he offered his evening Mass in accordance with a local custom sanctioned by centuries of use.

PUPPIES are born blind, and every man, even the brightest and wisest, came into the world as blind and as ignorant as the blindest puppy. Some men, unlike puppies, remain essentially blind all their days. They are the men who do not think; and they do not think because they do not read, or do not read things worth reading.

Enjoy Your Food!

No book can do our thinking for us, just as not even the finest seven-course dinner can digest our food for us; but good books—books with something to say and the knack of saying it—stimulate our mind, just as the well-prepared dinner stimulates the flow of our gastric juices. If we don't eat anything we obviously don't digest anything; if we don't read, we are not likely to be ardent and constructive thinkers.

Some queer people take their pleasures painfully. Long-faced worthies have been known to eat their dinners as dolefully as if they were attending their grandmother's funeral. Most of us are happily not like that; we enjoy our food and feel fine after dinner. Well, some long-faced people take their reading dolefully, too; but wise readers frankly and fully enjoy what they read. If we don't enjoy our meals and our reading we don't get much good out of either.

The Bystander

This Jubilee Business

THERE seems to have been some talk of a Jubilee being celebrated this year by Saint Mary's College. I trust that the reader has gained a similar impression also after wading through the bulky pages of this monumental edition.

When I got wind of this in a round about fashion, a word here and there, I was naturally curious to know just exactly what having a jubilee meant. It is not quite as simple as you might think. In fact the whole thing is mighty confusing if not misleading.

First of all let's look at the dictionary, where you can find out the darndest things. The one I used was The New Peerless Webster Home, School, and Office Dictionary; a title which is kind of misleading in a way because it seems pretty obvious that a word's a word whether you use it in the home or in the office. Mr. Devlin, the editor, must be proud of the thing, though, because he brags on the title page that his book is "Modern-Accurate-Authoritative," which is covering the ground fairly thoroughly. Anyway, this is what he says that jubilee means: "A Jewish festival celebrated every 50th year to commemorate the deliverance of the Israelites from Egyptian bondage; the 50th anniversary of any event; a year of special indulgence granted every 25th year by the pope."

Now, any schoolboy, even I, knows that the Pope hasn't anything to do with this affair. And on the other hand, this is not the 50th anniversary of the college but the 75th. The last choice left us is the Jewish festival. Friends, I appeal to you, doesn't the whole thing seem pretty silly? The Galloping Gaels holding a Jewish festival!

Somebody has slipped up some place. A fatal blunder has been made, and merely tacking the word Diamond in front of the jubilee isn't going to cover it up either. If they think they can dazzle me with a word, even a brilliant one like diamond they're mistaken. I am speaking merely for myself, naturally, but I absolutely refuse to be an Israelite, not even on a glorious occasion like the present one. Why, I might lose my membership in the Irish Society.

All in all, it can be seen that Saint Mary's College has taken a lot of liberty with this Jubilee thing, and it is rather unfortunate, too, considering that colleges like dictionaries are supposed to be "Modern-Authoritative-Accurate."

SAINT MARY'S COLLEGE RAZED BY FIRE

College in Ashes

Saint Mary's Has Been Destroyed

Both Water and Hose Were Lacking

The Loss Is Over a Quarter of a Million

A Number of Firemen Were Severely Injured—Little Insurance

Oakland, Sept. 23, 1894.—Saint Mary's College at the juncture of New Broadway and Cemetery Avenue was destroyed by fire last night. A bright blaze in the northern part of Oakland at 5:30 o'clock was the signal for the alarm that the college was ablaze. The great structure was wrapped in flames before the Fire Department responded. At 9 o'clock the four upper stories had been completely gutted. The fire had a fair start before the Fire Department got to work and it seemed impossible for a time to save any of the building.

The blaze was first discovered by a lad named W. J. Peterson, Jr. He was going through the infirmary on the fifth floor when he saw a blaze coming up the waste chute in the center of the northern wing of the building. It is supposed that the fire was caused by a match being thrown into the chute or from a defective flue near the chute.

Brothers and students alike responded to the alarm given by Peterson and fire-hose throughout the building was brought into use in the attempt to combat the flames. The fire having spread to three floors, the Brothers and students were badly handicapped in their efforts.

Lack of water and hose delayed the firemen when they arrived, just as the Brothers were giving up the battle. Almost an hour elapsed before enough water was obtained to reach the flames. By that time the fire had spread to four stories and was completely out of control.

By 9:00 o'clock the fire was brought under control, but great damage had then been done. The four upper stories had been gutted and the contents entirely destroyed, entailing great loss. Firemen met with many obstacles in their attempts to quell the raging flames, not having ladders long enough to reach the upper stories.

The building is practically a complete loss. The four walls remain standing, but it is feared they may topple over at any time. The main floor is badly damaged and is practically useless.

All the engines had a long run, and when the college was reached it became apparent that they would have the fight of their lives on their hands to subdue the flames, so few were the hydrants in the neighborhood.

Engines 1 and 5 alone had good positions. Other engines were strung along Broadway for a distance of more than a half a mile, and one was dependent upon the other for its effectiveness. When one shut down working the others had to follow suit. This interdependence was the result of an inadequate supply of hose, none of the companies save No. 2 having hose enough unaided to come within fighting distance of the flames.

The majority of the engines on the ground up to 9 p. m. did not work half the time, and every member of their companies charged it to what they styled Councilman Manuel's niggardly policy in refusing to grant the request of Chief Lawton for 4000 feet of hose. In giving expression to their views the men were generally more emphatic than courtly because they felt that their competency would be severely criticised, when they considered themselves blameless.

Questioned on the scene by a reporter, Chief Lawton stated that he had done his best under the circumstances. "I asked for 4000 feet of hose," he said, "and I cannot get them from the Council. Just as soon as I stretch one lead of hose it bursts, and then we are delayed to make another line."

In the history of conflagrations in Oakland there has never been a fire in which so many persons were injured as were victims of yesterday's blaze. The most seriously injured was John O'Hare, an extra-man of Brooklyn engine. He was struck by a falling beam and sustained a severe cut on the head. It is thought he has been injured internally. He was taken to Dr. McCullough's office in the immediate neighborhood. He was conscious at the time. He feared he was going to die and sent for Father McSweeney, who responded immediately and administered the last sacraments. O'Hare was taken to his home, 614 East Fourteenth Street. On the way he became delirious, and several men were required to keep him on the cot.

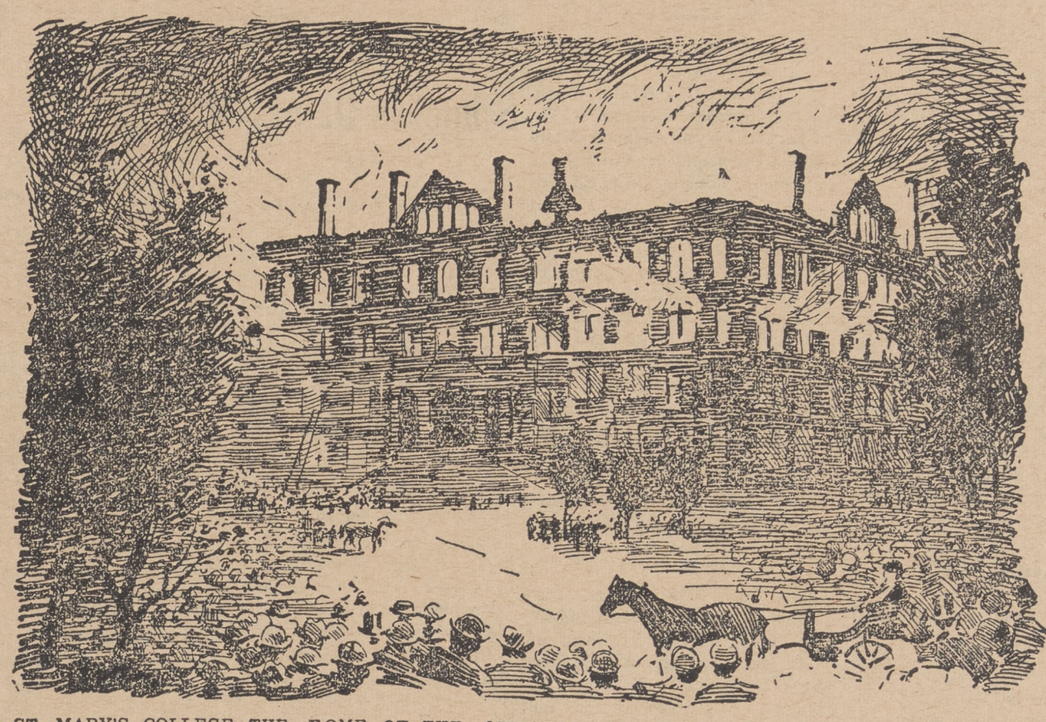
Others injured are as follows: Roger Sicotte, engine 3, burned on head and neck; Amos Sicotte, engine 3, burned on face and neck; Douglas Leet, engine 1, burned on arms and neck; John Foster, hose 1, burned on head; E. Stewart, engine 4, burned on the arm; Frank R. Moore, truck 3, burned on the back and neck; William McCurdy, engine 2, burned on the right arm; Henry Williams, engine 1, artery left index finger cut. The injuries of all these were dressed by Dr. McCullough.

Brother Bettelin, president of the college, is now in Europe. Brother Erminold, in charge of the college at the time of the fire, estimated damage to be in the neighborhood of $250,000. The students and Brothers lost everything they possessed. Three libraries were destroyed and many valuable documents.

Insurance on the structure, in the opinion of John H. Troy, agent in whose hands the insurance rests, does not exceed $40,000. It is divided evenly between the Commercial Union Assurance Company and the Liverpool, London and Globe.

Saint Mary's College has been one of the most prominent institutions in the state, having been established in 1863 with the Christian Brothers assuming control in 1868. It was moved from San Francisco in 1887, October 3. The Christian Brothers have established many other schools in Washington, Oregon and California, and were responsible for the formation of the first Sunday Schools in San Francisco.

Students and faculty will be cared for at Saint Joseph's College, operated by the Brothers, in this city.



ST. MARY'S COLLEGE—THE HOME OF THE CHRISTIAN BROTHERS IN OAKLAND DESTROYED BY FIRE YESTERDAY EVENING.

SANTA CRUZ

Santa Cruz, May 15, 1891.—Today the newly erected home of the Christian Brothers in this city was consecrated by Bishop Montgomery. The building was erected to house the Brothers who came here from Saint Mary's College in Oakland to take over a boys' school formerly operated by the Sisters of Charity.

Three members of the order have recently arrived here and will commence their new duties tomorrow. Their home adjoins the church and the school.

College to be Moved

Oakland, Oct. 25, 1894.—Buildings formerly occupied by Saint Mary's College on the Mission Road in San Francisco are being repaired to make it possible to conduct classes in them, according to Brother Erminold, acting president of the College.

Classes will be held in the former location until the structure on New Broadway in this city can be rebuilt. It is thought that students will be able to occupy the building in another month.

College Opens

Athletic Outlook Bright at Saint Mary's

Oakland, Jan. 8, 1896.—The largest American flag in Alameda county will be unfurled tomorrow over Saint Mary's College. The college, which was destroyed by fire a year ago, will receive students on Thursday. It has been operating in former buildings on the Mission Road near San Francisco.

In 1892 the Saint Mary's College baseball team won the amateur championship of California from the Berkeley, Stanford and Reliance teams. An American flag, 60x40 feet was the prize, and this flag will be flung in the breeze over the reconstructed college.

There will be about 150 students present to be classified and assigned to quarters. No programme of exercises has been arranged, but many friends will visit the college. They will be welcomed by the Christian Brothers in charge of the school.

Brother Bettelin is now president of the college, and Brother Walter is Director. The latter graduated from the college about 25 years ago. Brother Genebern is pro-Director and Brother Agnon has charge of the graduating class.

CATHOLIC COLLEGE

Brother Walter Is Appointed President of Saint Mary's

Oakland, Aug. 10, 1896.—Word was received today from the head of the Christian Brothers' Order in Paris that Brother Walter has been appointed president of Saint Mary's College, succeeding Brother Erminold.

The new president of the college is the first of her graduates to be so honored. Brother Walter finished his course in 1869 and was soon named vice-director of Sacred Heart College. Later he became head of the Christian Brothers' College in Santa Ynez, and then in 1881 he returned to Saint Mary's as a teacher of the graduating class.

Brother Walter is known as a quiet, conservative man, a deep thinker, and a good disciplinarian.

Brother Erminold's ability as an educator is recognized by both Catholic and Protestant teachers and there are many thousands in every walk of life who will be pleased to see him at the head of Saint Mary's again.

Oakland, Nov. 6, 1902.—Brother Erminold, president of Saint Mary's College of this city died tonight after an illness lasting less than twenty-four hours. For six months past, however, he had not been in the best of health.

Death was due to a hemorrhage of the stomach which physicians were unable to control. Brother Erminold had been in the Order for the past thirty-two years. His lay name was Charles A. O'Donnell.

The deceased was born in Limerick, Ireland, forty-eight years ago. He came to this country at the age of sixteen, and shortly afterwards joined the Christian Brothers Order. Within a short period of time he was transferred to the West coast and has been stationed in San Francisco and Oakland ever since.

Brother Zenonian, 36 years of age, is one of the youngest men to hold the executive position at Saint Mary's. He obtained his early education at Sacred Heart College, and later entered the Brothers' novitiate at Martinez.

After spending two years at Martinez he was transferred to Sacramento to assume a professorship in the Brothers' College there. In 1897 he was chosen the first president of Saint James College in Vancouver. A short time later he was recalled to Saint Mary's, serving there for 18 months before going to San Francisco to take the vice-presidency of his alma mater.

On his trip through Oakland the papal delegate was escorted by Father McSweeney, Father Yorke and Father Casey. Tonight he leaves for Sacramento, on the morrow he departs for Washington, D. C.

TALK TO BE GIVEN

Member of Saint Mary's Faculty To Speak

Oakland, March 9, 1903.—One of the first discourses given in connection with the recently founded lecture bureau on the campus of Saint Mary's College was delivered last night by Brother Leo, professor of English at Sacred Heart College in San Francisco. The lecturer was introduced by Brother Benedict, vice-president of the college.

The theme of the recital was Julius Caesar, and the entire treatment was marked by the absence of the rant that not unfrequently characterizes Shakespearean readings.

Among those that will participate in the first course of the bureau are Doctors Maher and McMurde, Fathers Session, McQuade, and Stark, and Brothers Agnon, Benedict, and Bernard.

Richards, W. A. Kelly, Dr. C. D. McGettigan and Dr. T. D. Maher are chairmen of the several committees in charge.

CROWD IN ATTENDANCE

Archbishop Montgomery Is Dedicator of Saint Joseph's College

Chapel Proves Too Small To Hold Large Crowd

Berkeley, April 25, 1903.—Amid a wealth of floral beauty and unusually picturesque surroundings, Saint Joseph's College, at Peralta Park, was dedicated yesterday by the Right Reverend George W. Montgomery, Coadjutor Archbishop of San Francisco.

The dedicatory service began and ended in the chapel. After a short service at the altar, Archbishop Montgomery attended by the Reverend Father J. B. McNally, pastor of Saint Patrick's Church in Oakland and the Reverend Father Cranwell of Saint Mary's College, and followed by acolytes bearing crucifix and censor, made a circuit of the building and dedicated the various rooms.

As the chapel proved too small to hold the people present for the ceremony, the Archbishop preached his sermon from the balcony.

Saint Joseph's Academy was opened last August in the large building known as Peralta Hall and is a preparatory school for Saint Mary's College and was formerly located in Oakland. In the new quarters, there are over 100 rooms and ample space to accommodate many students. At the present time the school is under the direction of Brother Genebern and nine other members of the Christian Brothers' Order, who constitute the teaching force. There are now eighty-five pupils enrolled in the school.

Carriages were at the Berkeley station to meet the trains and convey the guests to the Academy grounds.

TRAGIC MISHAP

Brother Joseph Is Drowned While Swimming in Russian River

Oakland, June 27, 1903.—Death came yesterday morning to Brother Joseph, a member of the faculty of Saint Mary's College, as he was swimming with a number of companions in the Russian River, near the summer camp of the Christian Brothers.

Brother Joseph was swimming with Brother Agnon and Brother Victurian and was suddenly seized with cramps, sinking almost immediately. His two companions made an heroic effort to save him, as did other Brothers on a nearby bank, but could not reach him in time.

The remains reached Oakland today where they will lie in state in the chapel of Saint Mary's College. Funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at 9:30 in the college chapel with interment to follow in Saint Mary's Cemetery.

He dwelt chiefly on the nature of the responsibility which was laid upon all young men educated in Catholic schools to show the world the value of well-lived lives.

With Mr. Cockran were many prominent alumni of the school, including Judge F. J. Murasky of San Francisco, '83; Father H. J. Stark, C. P. S., '94; Congressman W. B. Winn, and many others.

School Is Damaged

Saint Mary's College Shaken by Quake

Great Fissure Is Made In Walls of the Institution

Oakland, April 6, 1906.—Yesterday morning, as the Brothers knelt in praper in the chapel of Saint Mary's College, they were startled by a series of violent quakes accompanied by the breaking of statues and the crashing to the floor of the sanctuary lamp from the ceiling, as the earthquake so disastrous to San Francisco struck the east bay.

Although damage to the college was slight, the faculty and students were well frightened as the building groaned and strained against the quake. Avoiding falling bricks that crashed down from the roof of the structure crushing the small porch below, the occupants hurried to safety in the surrounding grounds.

The wall of the east wing of the Brothers' quarters separated so that the faculty could walk from one section of the building to another by simply passing through the separated area of the wall.

A large crack also appeared on the side of the main building but was immediately reinforced with steel braces to keep the break from becoming larger.

TWO HUNDRED ENTER

All Previous Enrollment Marks Are Endangered at Saint Mary's College

Oakland, September 6, 1906.—Opening of the fall semester at Saint Mary's College found the largest enrollment in the history of the institution on hand. A feature of the enrollment is the large number of out of state students on hand.

Students registered in the civil and mining engineering section have been granted another month in which to enroll, as they are working under the direction of Walter B. Hinkle, '06, who was appointed chief engineer of the Southern Pacific construction work in southern Oregon.

The athletic outlook for the coming year is very bright according to the athletic association officers who report that many of the stars of last year's teams are returning to school this semester.

Pioneer Dies

Brother Genebern Among First to Come Here

Oakland, August 18, 1907.—Brother Genebern, a member of the order of the Christian Brothers for 50 years and one of the eight Brothers that came to San Francisco from New York in 1869 at the request of Pope Pius IX to take over the administration of Saint Mary's College, then located on Mission Road in the former city, died today at Saint Joseph's Academy in Berkeley.

By his death one of the most prominent figures in educational circles on the Pacific Coast is removed. For nearly forty years, Brother Genebern had been engaged in the work of the order in California. He was highly honored in the fraternity which he had served for more than a half a century. His golden anniversary was celebrated last April.

Upon his arrival in California in 1863, and for some time hence, Brother Genebern acted in the capacity of prefect of the college. Later he was transferred to Sacramento as president of the institute in that city. In 1884 he returned to San Francisco to be president of Sacred Heart College and then ten years later once more became affiliated with Saint Mary's in the position of vice-president of the institution.

College Officials Considering New Site

Will Move to Site Farther North on Broadway

Oakland, April 3, 1907.—Officers of Saint Mary's College, one of the prominent Catholic educational institutions around the bay, and which now occupies a prominent site on Broadway, are to sell the property and building the college now owns and move the school out of the heart of the city. Elmhurst, four blocks farther north on Broadway, is now considered the most probable location for the new buildings and negotiations are now pending for forty acres of land near the head of Orchard Avenue in that suburb.

Brother Vellesian, president of the college, said that it has become necessary for the college to secure larger quarters. The institution has grown beyond its present bounds and the time has come when other and better arrangements must be made.

When the college was first erected at its present site there was an abundance of territory surrounding the buildings and it was thought that if it ever became necessary to expand the property would be there to work on.

However, the city of Oakland has grown rapidly and the property is now unavailable due to the many residential and business establishments built around the school.

According to Brother Vellesian, no deal has been made for the new property as yet, nor have any arrangements been made to sell the old property. Matters, are as yet in abeyance, but it may be only a few weeks before a definite move is made. The Brothers are determined to secure larger quarters but are choosing each move carefully.

It is the plan of Brother Vellesian to build three buildings on the new site instead of the one building now used on the old property. This will entail an expenditure of about a half a million dollars and with this added to the price of the property and the cost of beautifying the grounds will make the cost of the new school very great.

The new site now under considera is ideal in the eyes of the Brothers as there is an abundance of spare land that can be used for athletic fields and the like.

Saint Mary's Boys Best Palo Alto Team on Day of Big Game

Oakland, April 9, 1894.—It will be remembered that a few months ago clubs from Leland Stanford Jr. University, Saint Ignatius college, Sacred Heart college, Santa Clara college, and Saint Mary's college were engaged in a most bitter struggle for a trophy to be awarded by the directors of the Midwinter Fair to the team holding the best record at the termination of the schedule.

A great point in favor of the Saint Mary's team was that the same men were always played in the same positions, whereas the other teams were constantly changing the positions of their men and consequently were lacking in team work.

The Stanford and Saint Mary's men were said to have put in some very severe practices under the watchful eyes of Managers Dimond of Saint Mary's and Cox of Stanford.

As the league progressed, Saint Mary's constantly won, but rumor had it that they would surely go down when they faced the then invincible Stanfords. This game had been looked forward to with an unusual amount of interest as each team had beaten all its other opponents and a very fast game was expected.

At last the long-looked-for day arrived and as the two teams met, anxious faces could be seen among the admirers of each. At first the Stanfords led, but Saint Mary's by a gallant effort took the lead after Hanlon had, with three men on bases, driven the ball far over the Stanford fielder's head for a home run. Saint Mary's won 14-5 and also the $250 league cup.

The Annual Field Day

Some World Records Are Shattered

Oakland, May 6, 1897.—The annual field day of the track athletes of Saint Mary's was held today on the college campus. Big Tim Carroll, who has been training the athletes, smashed two world's professional records in the hammer throw.

He tossed the 16-pound hammer 158 feet, breaking his own world's record by five feet, and threw the eight-pound hammer 253½ feet, shattering the world's record for that event, also held by himself, by nearly 32 feet.

Among the collegians, Oliver Welch carried off the honors of the day. He ran the hundred in the marvelous time of 10 seconds. As only one watch caught the event, there was some doubt as to the accuracy of the time. Welch also won the 220-yards dash and the running broad jump.

F. Pezzola's mile run was another feature of the field day. M. Murphy took the 120 hurdles in the good time of 16½ seconds. The tug of war match was won in 7 minutes and 25 seconds by F. Silva, M. Murphy, F. Samaniego, L. Tourney, E. Butler, M. Ferry, A. Tinan, H. Guichard, and J. Ascabar.

Small Audience

Sees Saint Ignatius Lose to Saint Mary's as Cool Wind Blows

Oakland, Feb. 9, 1894.—The second of the series of baseball games between the Saint Mary's and Saint Ignatius College teams in the Intercollegiate league occurred yesterday afternoon before a small audience. A cool wind swept over the grandstand and possibly prevented many from attending who would have been present had the weather been more pleasant.

Cooney, who was in the box for Saint Mary's, did some very effective pitching. He struck out seven men and did some decidedly fine fielding. The final score was 9 to 6.

SAINT MARY'S LAGS IN FIELD DAY SPORTS

It Was Decided at Meeting to Hire a Coach of Football

Jan. 23, 1893.—At a meeting of the Saint Mary's College Athletic association today, Rev. Brother Thomas, who returned recently from the east, said that so far as field-day athletics were concerned, Saint Mary's was lagging behind.

He called a meeting of the students and it was at once determined that field-day athletics should henceforth be reckoned among the regular college exercises.

It was also decided at the meeting to hire a coach for the newly-organized football team. Brother Lucian, the Prefect of the college, is much interested in this undertaking, being convinced that with the material at hand, success is assured.

No one who sees the boys practice every afternoon on the college campus after school hours can fail to notice the quickness of their movements and the proficiency they have already acquired in this interesting sport.

Napa Defeated

Lads of Saint Mary's Win Football Game 32 to 0

Oakland, Aug. 23, 1895.—The Saint Mary's college and Napa college students played a one-sided game of football at Central park yesterday afternoon. At the conclusion of the game, the score stood 32 to 0 in favor of the Saint Mary's eleven. During the first half of the contest 24 points were made by the victors.

At the opening of the second half Jack Cooney distinguished himself by making a successful run the length of the field and securing a touchdown. Wolfe of the Napas received several hard falls during the afternoon, and just before the close of the game had to be taken from the field.

STUDENTS AWAIT FIELD DAY ON MAY 10

Anxious for Many Games of Handball, Vaulting, Jumping, Etc.

Oakland, May 1, 1893.—It is not often that students look forward to outdoor sports with keener appreciation than do those of Saint Mary's college to the exercises of their coming field day on May 10.

All usual games, such as handball, running and walking matches, jumping, putting the shot, vaulting, etc., have been arranged with reference to their relative importance.

Another prominent feature of the day will be a game of baseball between two picked nines. As this has ever been a favorite sport at the college, and one in which the boys have excelled, a well-contested game is assured.

The lovers of this sport point with excusable pride to the fact that in a series of games last season with the Stanford, State universities and Reliance of Oakland, the Phoenix was invariably successful.

A cinder path will soon be made through the grounds so that the bicyclists and fat men may display their skill to the best advantage. The tennis court has been fitted up with the latest improvements, and with the croquet grounds, is receiving unusual attention.

BIG DICKS ARE EASY

Oakland, Dec. 12, 1905.—The Phoenix clearly demonstrated yesterday that the much lauded "Big Dicks" belong to a class of inferior grade and that their victory of a week ago was really "fluky."

Football Team Is Ambitious

Santa Clara and Saint Mary's Might Meet for the First Time

Oakland, Aug. 22, 1896.——Saint Mary's football team has started out with an ambition that augurs well for a good record at the close of the season.

In speaking this afternoon of football prospects at the college, Manager J. J. Greeley of Saint Mary's said: "The record of those who have graduated from this institution is clear to all and therefore needs no comment. Their brilliant career after leaving college is owing in a large degree to that physical and manly appearance, combined with a thorough knowledge, which they contract during their college days.

"It may well be said of Saint Mary's football team, as it was said of her baseball team, that they hold the first rank among amateurs. The very name of Saint Mary's has something magnetic about it that makes her students climb the hill of science and conquer in the field of sports.

"The team will possibly meet Stockton and Santa Cruz on the gridiron this season, and from present indications will be worthy representatives of their college and Oakland. Santa Clara and Saint Mary's will for the first time this year probably meet in a contest similar to Stanford and Berkeley."

RELIANCE CLUB BEATEN BY SAINT MARY'S TEAM

Oakland, Dec. 8, 1901.—The Phoenix baseball team defeated the Reliance club on the college campus today by a score of 17 to 2. The college players found Crawford and McCarthy for 15 safe hits, while the club men were unable to connect effectively with Flynn's delivery.

BEARS LOSE TO PHOENIX

Berkeley, Feb. 19, 1902.—The University of California nine met defeat this afternoon on the college diamond at the hands of the Saint Mary's Phoenix by a score of 3 to 2. Good ball was played and the excitement kept up until the last inning.

SANTA CLARA GETS 46 POINTS TO SEVEN

Central Park Was a Muddy Lake as Two Teams Battled

Oakland, Dec. 14, 1896.—Wit[h] rain pouring down upon them, [on] a gridiron which was soon trans[formed] into a muddy lake, the S[an]ta Clara college boys administe[red] an ignominious defeat yesterday [at] Central park to their athletic riv[als] of Saint Mary's.

The football players from Santa Clara ran up a score of 46 points, while all their opponents from Oakland could do was to score a single touchdown, from which a goal was kicked.

The game was for the collegiate championship. Saint Mary's was erroneously considered the stronger before the game. This idea, soon after the kickoff, was dispelled from the minds of all, and every noise-making instrument with which the Saint Mary's supporters were well burdened, was suddenly destroyed or remained silent the rest of the day.

Saint Mary's kicked off to the Santa Clara 15-yard line, and the ball was advanced slowly by Santa Clara to the middle of the field, where it was lost on a fumble. Flood of Saint Mary's was given the ball and he advanced 10 yards, when both teams piled up on him. Flood, in some unaccountable manner, shook off the pack, and with lightning speed, started for his opponents' goal. He avoided Conlan, captain of Santa Clara, and, unassisted, scored the first touchdown and the only one for Saint Mary's.

S M Ball Tossers Have no Peers on Baseball Field

HISTORY OF BASEBALL AT OAKLAND COLLEGE IS TOLD BY WRITER

Many Big League Stars Gain Their Early Training at Saint Mary's College

By T. P. MAGILLIGAN

San Francisco, Jan. 21, 1907.—Were the writer to pick any form of sport which in his opinion is fully deserving of encouragement, he should choose baseball, and by the same token, he would not overlook the advantages of amateur football, and, sailing along the cinder track, he would pick the Phoenix baseball club of Saint Mary's College as the very beau ideal of an amateur team.

If there is a better amateur ball team in America, the writer has not yet met up with them, and he has had an experience in baseball which extends over a decade and with players of all the leagues from the majors down to the veriest tyros.

If you want to get a line on what Saint Mary's has done for baseball, just have a brief talk with Brother Agnon. Although silver lines are stealing through the raven locks of Agnon, he still takes a wonderful interest in baseball and has a knowledge of the game and players which would do full justice to one who made the life study of the game a profession.

"Yes, Brother Joseph has a fine lot of boys," declared Agnon, then, growing reminiscent, he continued: "But I doubt if there are any of the present boys who have it on some of the old-time stars. Saint Mary's, you know, has earned its way in baseball by always having a team of fine players.

"Way back in 1868 there was a ball club at Saint Mary's," continued Agnon. "At that time the college was located on the old Mission road in San Francisco. The team of the coast in those pioneer days was Saint Mary's, and the college team of that date beat all the then organized clubs of San Francisco.

"In those days Saint Mary's had one of the best batteries the college ever turned out. They were Delos Ashley, pitcher, and John Cullen, catcher. Both were experts in their respective positions, and at once the admired of the fans and the envy of all the players.

"In 1876 Saint Mary's team paid a visit to the Centennial Exposition in Philadelphia and held their own against the cracks of the east. Near the end of the seventies, Saint Mary's played the justly renowned Cincinnati Reds and gave to that team the hardest struggle they had had up to that time. The Saint Mary's adopted the title of the Phoenix in 1879, and the now Honorable M. T. Dooling was captain.

"After adopting the name of the Phoenix club, Saint Mary's played their first game with Santa Clara and won over them by an easy margin.

"The first players of the Saint Mary's team to become professionally engaged in baseball were Ashley and Cullen." Magendie was also a great player in the early days of Saint Mary's baseball career. Another great player that Brother Agnon recalls was the Rev. Father J. P. Coyle,

Charley Geggus was a great player also in his day and after leaving college became a member of the Haverleys of San Francisco. In the early 80's the crack of the team was J. B. McElroy, the pitcher. He went east and made good with the big league after he graduated from Saint Mary's. In that same period the team developed a famous catcher in Henry Coffey. The present Rev. Joseph T. Nunan, who played under the name of Purcell, is one player whose name will long live in the annals of college baseball on the coast.

"In the early 90's the player of the Phoenix team to stick out prominently was J. A. Cooney. He established the record of fanning 23 California players, and some of the savants at Saint Mary's still hold that this was the feat which was responsible for the present slang phrase '23'."

Following Cooney came the star of Saint Mary's whose career was by far the most brilliant of any man turned out by the college, and it was Joseph A. Corbett. While yet a boy in his teens, Joe Corbett graduated into professional ranks, and shortly became a member of the famous Baltimore Orioles, which the writer holds never had a superior as a team in the history of baseball.

Billy Hanlon, who is now dead, was the next star to be developed by Saint Mary's. He had a short try-out with Chicago of the National league one season. Frank Ferguson, the great pitcher of the '05 team, was the next great player that the team developed. Ferguson has been in great demand by professional teams, but he has foresworn baseball for all time.

A Decisive Beating

Santa Clara Clearly Outplays S. M. Team

Oakland Team Heavier but Lacking in Knowledge of Fundamentals

Oakland, Nov. 19, 1898.—Santa Clara college eleven defeated Saint Mary's college team yesterday afternoon on the Central park gridiron. The score was 57 to 0. Santa Clara presented a unified team, with fierceness and dash and superior knowledge of the fundamental principles of the game opposed to eleven heavier youngsters who struggled aimlessly as they stood up and took their medicine, dose after dose.

Saint Mary's had hoped to wipe out the Waterloo of two years ago, when the two rivals first met.

There was vociferous and musical rivalry about the arena from the time that Saint Mary's numerous followers came in with pink and blue colors much in evidence and captured the choicest place in the grandstand until a slugging bout at the last down added a spectacular feature after the whistle had sounded the end of an unequal two-hour struggle.

For an hour the coaches and team captains wrangled in a little group over the officials. Frick had coached Saint Mary's and in other years had played against Olympic men. It was all settled finally and play began.

Santa Clara had the opening kick-off and sent the ball bounding to within three yards of the goal line. Saint Mary's ran it in 20 yards before a pair of red and white arms nailed the runner. Three times Saint Mary's hit the opposing line, gaining six feet, and had to yield the ball. Then the Santa Clara county players began a demonstration of the proposition that the San Francisco peninsula produces a superior quality of football teams. The very first play brought a touchdown, and Santa Clara had five points before the game was two minutes old. The run was a pretty, sweeping curve by Coward round Butler's end.

Santa Clara developed no spectacular plays, but hammered the center repeatedly and took her gains in five-yard installments. Her backs were generally quick and fierce, and they rushed, heads lowered, and fought every time for an extra inch.

Flynn to Try Out

Saint Mary's Star Twirler to Try Out With the Oakland Team

Oakland, Sept. 13, 1902.—John Flynn, the star twirler in the crack amateur team of Saint Mary's College, will be given a try-out by Manager "Pete" Lohman of the Oakland team.

The "Old Man of Baseball" has seen the youngster perform, believes he can make good in company as fast even as the aggregation that Pete has collected this season, and will give him a chance in the morning game with the Ponies at Golden Gate tomorrow morning.

Flynn is said to be by long odds the best bender passer that ever worked with the Saint Mary's boys, and that is saying a great deal, for some of the best men in the country have come out of the college team.

Baseball Is Started

INDEPENDENTS DEFEAT BERKELEY TEAM

Oakland, Sept. 9, 1901.—The students of Saint Mary's College have taken up baseball as the leading feature of this term's athletic work. The reason for the extraordinary interest the young collegians are displaying in the national game is the fact that the college nine last season swept its many opponents from the field and the record for 1900-01 was a clear one of victories, not a single defeat marring the year's work.

PHOENIX ARE VICTORS

COMPLETE SEASON OF 27 GAMES WITHOUT DEFEAT

Record Is One That May Never Again Be Equaled

Oakland, April 23, 1907.—The Phoenix of Saint Mary's College, champion amateur baseball club of California, has disbanded for the season of 1907, with a record which it is doubtful if any amateur team will again equal.

Now that California, Stanford, and Santa Clara, their chief rivals, have gone under cover until 1908 summons a renewal of intercollegiate strife, the Phoenix can rest complacently upon the realization of having engaged in 27 encounters without losing a game.

The record of the Phoenix team, recently compiled, is remarkable. But 39 runs were scored against Saint Mary's in 27 games, or a little more than a run a game.

The Phoenix gathered in 137 runs in the same time, and, moreover, no team scored more than four runs against them. They have to their credit eight shut-outs, eight one-run victories, seven two-run games, one three-run contest, and three four-run games. Here is a summary of the Phoenix's work as contrasted with that of their rivals:

TWENTY-SEVEN GAMES

	R.	H.	SB.	SH.	E.
Opponents	39	125	24	16	85
Saint Mary's	137	203	86	44	60

Saint Mary's has met only first class opponents, amateur and professional, and not a single defeat has marred the work of the Phoenix.

Final Intercollegiate league standings for 1907:

Institution	W.	L.	Pct.
Saint Mary's	10	0	1.000
Santa Clara	8	2	.800
Stanford	4	8	.333
California	2	9	.181
Saint Vincent's	1	6	.142

Here are the Midwinter league standings:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Saint Mary's Phoenix	4	0	1.000
Gallagher-Marsh	3	2	.600
Gantner-Mattern	2	3	.400
All Stars	3	7	.300

Saint Mary's lost no independent games and played 13.

SM Tackles Rugby

Students at Oakland College Are Expected to Turn Out in Numbers

Oakland, Sept. 11, 1907.—The students at Saint Mary's College have decided to add rugby football to the curriculum and the first of next week will see a large squad of candidates out for practice. Field Coach George Presley of Stanford will address the local student body some time within the next few days and will endeavor to point out to the boys at Saint Mary's the fine points of the game learned by him during his recent visit to Australia.

Football has not been played at Saint Mary's for nearly seven years, it having been eliminated from the list of sports at the college because of the death of a player in the American game.

Years ago the annual game between Saint Mary's and Saint Ignatius of San Francisco was an affair second only to the intercollegiate match between California and Stanford.

WIN ON TRACK

Saint Mary's Pink and Blue Goat Shakes Dust of Santa Clara

Oakland, May 30, 1909.—The pink and blue goat came back from exile yesterday and now feasts his eyes with the sight of the Piedmont hills. He has shaken the dust of Santa Clara from his aristocratic hoofs and soulfully murmurs,

"There's no place like home."

For the Oakland college secured a brilliant and decisive victory yesterday in Saint Mary's stadium, a victory which allows the adherents of the pink and blue to forget the result of the baseball series of this year and which is full of promises for all future track meets.

Saint Mary's won the meet, 72 1-3 to 49 2-3. Yesterday's track meet and field day marked the first occasion on which the students of the two Catholic colleges have ever come together to compete in track and field events.

SM SECURES GREAT COACH

HAL CHASE TO DIRECT PHOENIX THIS YEAR

Oakland, Jan. 15, 1908. So that their baseball prestige will not be dimmed the coming season, Hal Chase, the greatest first baseman of his time, has been again selected to coach the Phoenix baseball team.

The great coach and player is to begin his duties tomorrow. It will be the business of Mr. Chase to immediately organize and put in the field the team that will represent Saint Mary's this season. The Phoenix team will open its season next Sunday, when it will line up against the Gantner and Matterns of San Francisco.

Harry Krause, the boy wonder, who pitched the team to so many victories last season, will again be with the nine this year. There is a possibility, however, that he will not be permitted to participate in intercollegiate contests. Krause has signed a contract to play the coming season with the Philadelphia Americans, and if he intends to stand by this contract, he will not be eligible for games with other college nines.

"Honest Tom" Feeney will be on second base, Dunn will hold down first, Dugan is scheduled for shortstop, and Hallinan will hold down the difficult third corner for the Phoenix. In the field there will be Collins, Garibaldi, and one of the trio of pitchers.

Stanford Is Beaten

FERGUSON HAS BEST OF OF PITCHERS' DUEL

Stanford University, March 30, 1903.—Saint Mary's College of Oakland defeated the Stanford varsity in the last preliminary game of the season this afternoon by the score of 4 to 3.

It was a pitcher's battle in which Ferguson of Saint Mary's had all the best of the argument with Tritch. In the ninth inning with the score 4 to 1, two men out and a man on second and third, Knight brought the Cardinal rooters to their feet by sending a hot one to left field that scored two runs.

Knight died on third, however, when Williams popped out to shortstop. Saint Mary's scored her four runs in the fourth inning by touching up Tritch for four safe hits.

Now It's Rowing!

Saint Mary's Will Have Two Crews Next Year, It Is Announced

Oakland, Sept. 30, 1912.—In consistency with the plan of extending the present scope of athletic activities of Saint Mary's, Manager Clifford Russell announced yesterday that the institution would next year be represented by at least two strong rowing crews and that Saint Mary's would hereafter make rowing an important part of the college athletic program.

Saint Mary's probably will make application for admission into the Pacific Association of Amateur Oarsmen, and will be a contender in all regular regattas held by the association.

Until the boats are constructed, Saint Mary's students will have the use of the barge Muirhead of the South End Rowing club and will start practice on Lake Merritt shortly. Coach Otto Rittler will have charge of the varsity crew.

CAL WINS FROM PHOENIX

Berkeley, March 27, 1902.—Yesterday afternoon the California baseball team defeated the Saint Mary's college nine by a score of 2 to 1.

RESIGNATION

Coach Nill of Saint Mary's College Is Suddenly Called Home

Oakland, Nov. 16, 1908.—Athletic Instructor Nill, who has done remarkable work as coach of Saint Mary's College sports, has been suddenly called to his home in Philadelphia and has tendered his resignation to the student body, to take effect tomorrow afternoon. Otto Rittler, who has been superintendent of the Reliance club, will take Nill's place.

After Wednesday he will devote his attention exclusively to athletics at Saint Mary's. He is familiar with every branch of sports—football, baseball, basketball, and is particularly conversant with indoor athletics.

THEY KISS!

Mary and Clara Kiss and Make Up After All These Years

By WILL SCARLET

Oakland, March 17, 1909.—Mary and Clara have kissed and made up. For many years these two nice little girls have been making faces at each other and sticking out their dainty little tongues and singing, "You can't play in my back yard any more." But now they have settled their squabbles, which, after all, were but tiny tempests in tinier teapots, and they are going to play with each other for five years straight.

Articles of agreement signed between the athletic associations of Santa Clara and Saint Mary's declare that the Catholic colleges will engage regularly hereafter in athletic contests. Not only will the two baseball teams meet, but the athletes of both colleges will clash in friendly rivalry in football and field events. And to cinch the matter definitely, the arrangement will hold good for five years.

The outsider finds difficulty in understanding why the two Catholic colleges have failed to meet each other oftener on diamond and track. It has simply been a case of neither side wanting to give in to the other in matters that were always trivial and often irrelevant. Santa Clara and Saint Mary's are friendly rivals, but in their past athletic relations their rivalry has been more apparent than their friendliness. The committee of seven, thanks to the efforts of the faculties of both colleges, will now be able to regulate college spirit and to direct and control student loyalty. The outcome of it all will be a series of annual athletic contests which will rival the intercollegiate meets of Stanford and California in interest and excellence.

Basketball to Start

First and Second Teams Are Chosen

Oakland, Oct. 17, 1907.—At an enthusiastic meeting of the Saint Mary's College Athletic association, numerous members of the student body urged the necessity of enrolling basketball in the list of sports which Saint Mary's is endeavoring to handle this year.

The idea was immediately acted upon and William Kidston was chosen manager. He named H. Granella his assistant. Out of the squad that responded to the manager's call for aspirants to basketball laurels, a first and second team were formed and made to undergo stiff practice. The rules of the sport were thoroughly drilled into them. Both teams have been put in condition and next week are to play a series of six games, at the end of which the manager will be in a better position to judge and pick the men that are to represent Saint Mary's.

SANTA CLARA AND SAINT MARY'S BREAK UP

Break Comes at Conference of the Two Schools Yesterday

By F. J. MANNIX

Oakland, June 1, 1912.—After three years of almost constant bickering in which one side was equally culpable with the other, Saint Mary's and Santa Clara colleges yesterday decided to sever all athletic relations and in the future pursue their individual paths unmindful of the other. The break came at a conference of the representatives of the two institutions held at Santa Clara for the purpose of framing a new set of rules and regulations for the government of their relations in the future.

The present suspension of relations is not the first, which leads the more optimistic to believe that there is still a chance for the healing of the wound. Seven years ago a halt was called between the two, which lasted for near on to four years. It was not until 1909 that the peace dove consented to settle with the combatants again, although in spite of threatened fights she has continued to hover around until yesterday.

Disruptions have been threatened sevral times since the contract just nullified went into effect in 1909. In the whole three years there has been hardly a game of any kind but that several men on either team have been protested. Prior to every athletic meeting protests and counter protests flitted backward and forward between Oakland and Santa Clara, and always with the same result. The day of the game would arrive with practically every one of the protested men in the respective lineups, and invariably the storm would blow over.

In the event of the breach assuming a permanent aspect, the local athletic world will suffer a severe loss.

JOE LANG, OLYMPIC GAMES BOXER

Joe Lang, a big little man if there ever was one, outclassed competition until he represented Saint Mary's at one of the United States' choices for Olympic boxing competition in the Coliseum at Los Angeles.

Burns New Coach

Began Duties as Coach of Phoenix Today; '07 Graduate

Oakland, Jan. 9, 1913.—Eddie Burns began his duties as coach of the 1913 Phoenix team at Saint Mary's today. In Burns the local college will have one of the most able men in the game and under his guiding hand the boys should again prove the intercollegiate champions of the state. Burns, as a baseball coach, is without a peer on the Pacific coast. He knows baseball from A to Z and then back again.

Burns graduated from the local college in 1907. During his stay in school he played four years with the champion Phoenix nine, and it was through his playing that the college managed to win so many of its contests. He was secured by the college directors to coach the 1909 team and his masterful work put the locals at the head of the column among the colleges and universities of this state.

Burns duplicated his performance of 1909 in 1910 and again in 1911. He has been catching of late for the Montreal nine of the Eastern league.

Big League Stars

Boston and New York Get Two Saint Mary's Players

San Francisco, Feb. 23, 1912.—The Boston Americans and New York Americans have announced the acquisition of two Saint Mary's College pitchers. H. B. Leonard and Mike Cann, two husky southpaws, are the players who, according to report, will take a fling at the game in the big league this season.

Cann goes to New York and Leonard to the Red Sox. Ever since Connie Mack dug up Harry Krause from the Saint Mary's College campus the big league managers have been keeping a weather eye peeled on the baseball players across the bay.

Basketball Game

Saint Mary's Won Second Game From Santa Clara This Afternoon

Oakland, Feb. 17, 1912.—Saint Mary's varsity basketball team won the second game of a series of three for the Catholic college championship of the state from Santa Clara this afternoon by a score of 24 to 14. A third game will be necessary to decide the issue. The Saint Maryites had lost the opening game last Saturday.

The first half was close and exciting throughout, both teams battling on even ground. The score at the interval read 10-9 in favor of the local players. In the second period of action, the Saint Maryites fairly played their mission town rivals off their feet. The work of Gochuico, a Saint Mary's guard, was a veritable revelation.

Harry Hooper Has One of Best Years

Chicago, March 3, 1925.—Some ball players, like old wine, seem to improve with age. Take, for instance, Harry Hooper, veteran outfielder of the White Sox.

Hooper graduated from Saint Mary's College of Oakland, California, in 1907, and he came into the majors in 1909 from Sacramento. For several seasons he was a member of the famous Boston Red Sox outfield, composed of Hooper, Tris Speaker and Lewis, which has often been called one of the game's greatest. In 1921 he was traded to Chicago, where he has since remained.

San Francisco, Jan. 8, 1921.—Graduate Manager Louis LeFevre announced tonight that Ed P. ("Flash") Madigan, former Notre Dame football star, has been signed to coach the Saint Mary's college eleven for the next three years.

When Coach Madigan takes charge of the Saint Mary's footba team his first act will be to or a set of new sweaters for the letes. The coach dropped into the other day and lamped the as they galloped over where greensward ought to be on the co lege campus.

"Do they wear these red swea when they play football?" he as

"These sweaters are too conspicuous," he said.

Jimmy Underhill Is To Succeed McNally

Moraga, May 11, 1935.—Jimmy Underhill, one of the greatest of all Saint Mary's backs, was named last night to succeed Vince McNally, resigned, on Slip Madigan's coaching staff at Moraga.

McNally, for five years assistant to Madigan, and basketball coach, resigned yesterday morning.

Dr. Louis LeFevre Resigns from Post

Moraga, Aug. 5, 1935. Dr. Louis LeFevre, who as graduate manager of Saint Mary's for 14 years assisted in establishing the college as a major football attraction, left that post today to devote more time to his teaching duties.

LeFevre was the oldest graduate manager of the Pacific Coast in the point of service at the time of his resignation. He also is head of the college history department.

Joe Lang Is Forced to Withdraw From P.A.A. Tourney

San Francisco, March 27, 1930.—Joe Lang, Saint Mary's student, was forced to forfeit his chance to win the semi-finals in the P.A.A. boxing tourney here last night after he had fought Ralph Johnson of the Y.M.I. to a three-round draw.

Earl Sheely Is New Coach of Phoenix at SM

Moraga, Feb. 17, 1935.—Earl Sheely, veteran major and coast league first baseman, was signed yesterday as baseball coach by Saint Mary's College. Sheely, who recently secured an outright release from the Seattle club, will take charge of the Gael pastimers this week.

As baseball coach he succeeds Norman "Red" Strader, who has been relieved of the responsibility so that he will be able to devote his time to assisting Slip Madigan in spring practice.

Directors of College Plan to Erect Buildings

Oakland, November 28, 1907.—The directors of Saint Mary's College have decided that unless the present college property on Broadway is sold within two weeks it will be taken off the market and new buildings will be erected on the present site to accommodate the growing needs of the schools.

There has been talk of the city buying the college property to build a playground and park and this matter is to come up before the city council during the next week. The faculty of the college will urge that definite action be taken on the matter at that time.

Brother Vellesian, president of the college, has formulated great plans for the future of the school necessitated by the steady growth of the college. Some months ago considered buying a new site for the institution in Elmhurst, but this was dropped when it was found that there were no sewerage facilities. Other sites have been considered, and sale of the present property.

Already, plans have been drawn for two buildings, the first to house a gymnasium, swimming tank, and dressing rooms, and the second to be erected will be known as the college theater and will include a large auditorium, a library, and some science classrooms.

With these and some other improvements, the college authorities believe that they will be able to care for the natural growth of the institution that is expected within the next five years.

BROTHER DIES

Former President of Saint Mary's Is Dead

San Rafael, December 6, 1907.—Brother Walter, former president of Saint Mary's College, died today in a local hospital after an operation for appendicitis.

Brother Walter came to California at an early age tnd entered St. Mary's as a student soon after his arrival. He arose from a student to the presidency of the institution and subsequently became inspector of religious schools in the bay region. At the time of his death, Brother Walter was engaged in the translation of French classics at Saint Vincent's Orphanage in this city. He was 52 years of age.

The funeral services will be held from Saint Mary's Church on next Monday with Father Cottle as celebrant of the mass. Other priests officiating will be Father E. P. Dempsey of Oakland, Father J. J. Sullivan of Redwood City, and Father Mulligan of Oakland. The body will lie in state at the college until the last ceremonies are performed.

Father Coyle Dies

First San Franciscan to Be Ordained to the Priesthood

San Francisco, March 5, 1908.—Father John P. Coyle, a graduate of the college with the class of 1876, and the first San Franciscan to be ordained to the Catholic priesthood, died yesterday afternoon at the parish home of Star of the Sea Church in this city. He was one of the best loved and widely known churchmen in California.

Father Coyle was born in San Francisco on November 4, 1856. After graduating from the public schools he attended Saint Mary's College, then located on Mission Road in this city. He graduated from the institution with honors and then went on the Grand Seminary in Montreal, Canada, to study for the priesthood.

After his ordination in 1880, Father Coyle returned to his native city to begin his pastoral work. Up to that time all of the priests came to San Francisco from Europe or from other sections of the United States, and therefore a priest from this city was received with joy. He served in many parishes about the city until 14 years ago when he was appointed pastor of the Star of the Sea Chnrch by Archbishop Riordan

Five years ago Father Coyle was stricken ill and was forced to discontinue his work for some time.

Clergy Honor Bishop

Bishop O'Connell Given a Great Reception

Oakland, May 15, 1908.—The singing of a solemn high mass, the conferring of the sacrament of Confirmation upon a class of twenty-five students, and a public reception of Bishop O'Connell, auxiliary bishop of San Francisco, were the highlights of the celebration of the feast of Saint John Baptist de la Salle, founder of the Christian Brothers' order, at Saint Mary's College today.

The day's ceremonies began with mass in the college chapel at which time ten students received their first holy communion, and ended with benediction of the Blessed Sacrament in the evening. The solemn high mass was celebrated at 10 o'clock by the Reverend Father Joseph A. McAuliffe, assisted by Fathers Sullivan, Nolan, and Cranwell.

Following the conferring of Confirmation, Bishop O'Connell was the guest of honor at a formal reception by the students and faculty of the college. The address of welcome was delivered by John Doran, president of the senior class.

College Alumni Plan New Gymnasium

Oakland, June 7, 1908.—An announcement was made yesterday at the annual Alumni Day at Saint Mary's College that the Association will pay for the erection of a new gymnasium on the local campus of the college. Brother Joseph, head of athletic affairs at the college, has long planned a way to secure a new gymnasium and the graduates solved it for him with their announcement.

Faculty Changes for College Given

Oakland, August 30, 1908.—The faculty of Saint Mary's College was completed today with the exception of the prefect which will be announced sometime next week. Owing to the increase in enrollment during the past year, the college has been given six more instructors than usual.

Notable additions are Brother Leo, Brother Henry, and Professor Nill of Princeton University.

Reception Given to Archbishop Riordan

Students Entertain on Occasion of 25th Anniversary

Oakland, November 3, 1908.—A reception and entertainment were given at Saint Mary's College this morning to Archbishop Riordan to commemorate the twenty-fifth anniversary of his episcopacy. Besides the students and faculty of the college, there were present many of the Catholic clergy of the east bay cities.

The entertainment was given in the assembly hall of the college, which was decorated with purple and silver streamers and trimmings in honor of the occasion. The main address of the day was given by Peter Sheehan of the class of 1908, who extolled the work of the prelate and eulogized the Archbishop's personality. He formally expressed the greetings of the students of the college and voiced their prayer that the Archbishop may be able to carry on his fine work for many years to come.

Archbishop Riordan spoke briefly at the end of the program at which time he thanked the students and faculty for the reception and then paid a touching tribute to the Christian Brothers and their work in the field of education. The prelate was cheered and applauded at the close of his address, but the demonstration was doubled when he raised his hand to stop the tumult and announced that he was making the boys a present of a half a day holiday.

A Brother Is Dead

Brother Sabinian, Officer of College, Called by Death

Oakland, July 31, 1909.—Brother Sabinian, for twelve years secretary and treasurer of the college, and one of the original eight Brothers that came to the coast in 1868 to take over Saint Mary's College in San Francisco, died today at the college in this city from an illness that has confined him to his bed since April 4th of this year.

He was widely known and loved by all of those men who had worked with him during long and eventful life in the order, and his demise leaves a real sorrow in the hearts of the Brothers who have always accorded him the reverence due a pioneer toiler.

His funeral will be held on Monday, August 2, from the college and his body will be interred in a plot set aside for Brothers in Saint Mary's Cemetery.

Born in County Carey, Ireland, Brother Sabinian, whose family name was John Downey, entered the order in 1857 at the age of 25. Soon afterwards he came to this country and finally came to California to found the college. He left Saint Mary's for a few years to help in the establishing of schools in Sacramento, Oakland, and San Rafael, but returned to the college in 1896 and has remained there since. All in all Brother Sabinian held the position of treasurer at Saint Mary's for 30 years.

Junior Class of Saint Mary's Plans Washington Day Fete

Oakland, Feb. 19, 1910.—Junior class plans for a celebration at Saint Mary's College in observance of Washington's birthday were announced today.

The exercises will consist of an oration, several readings, and declamations in harmony with the spirit of the occasion and a number of instrumental and vocal numbers.

The six speakers on the program are William Brusher, Daniel Doran, William Davie, Clifford Russell, William R. Lowery, and Charles Moul.

A musical program has been prepared under the direction of Brother Agnon, and the numbers will be given between the orations.

THE DEATH OF THE REV. BROTHER JUSTIN

Famous Educator Passes Away at Ripe Age In the East

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 28, 1912.—Brother Justin, former president of Saint Mary's College in San Francisco died yesterday of paralysis at the Catholic Protectory at 10 a.m. The noted educator was 79 years old.

He was first stricken last June, while president of Christian Brothers College, Saint Louis, and was removed immediately afterwards to the Brothers' novitiate, Pocantico Hills, New York. Gaining strength, Brother Justin was able to attend the Cardinal Farley celebrations and took up residence at the Catholic Protectory with his old friend, Brother Quintinian, head of the institution.

He was stricken again a week ago and remained in comatose, with lucid intervals, until his death. The last sacraments were administered shortly before he expired.

Brother Justin was mainly responsible for the existence of Saint Mary's College in Oakland, Sacred Heart College in San Francisco, Saint Joseph's Academy in Berkeley and Christian Brothers College in Sacramento.

He came east in 1879, and later years found him engaged in educational work in Ireland and in France, in New York and in Saint Louis. He was serving as president of Christian Brothers College in Saint Louis when first stricken.

With Brother Justin at his death was the second president of Saint Mary's College after the Brothers took it over, Brother Bettelin, who succeeded Brother Justin. The two men were brothers.

Among the more serious contributions are the prize orations of Richard J. Curtis, and Louis LeFevre of the junior class and a tribute to the late Brother Bernard.

The Collegian is edited by Daniel E. Doran of the senior class, assisted by Leo. A. Murasky '13, Elmo E. Leonhardt '12, Raymond A. Miller '12, Louis F. LeFevre '13, Gerald J. Brusher '13, and Richard J. Curtis '13.

Bishop Hanna Given Enthusiastic Welcome

Oakland, January 18, 1913.—Right Reverend Edward J. Hanna, D. D., recently appointed Auxiliary Bishop of the diocese of San Francisco was the guest of honor at a reception tendered him this morning at 11 o'clock in the gymnasium of Saint Mary's College.

Leo J. Murasky '13, made the address of welcome. Following Murasky's talk Brother Fabrician, president of the college, introduced Dr. Hanna. Brother Fabrician in his introduction gave a brief account of the excellent work and results accomplished by the new auxiliary bishop.

In addition to the many hundred students there were several members of the clergy. Tomorrow evening Dr. Hanna will be the guest of honor at a reception to be tendered by the alumni council of the Newman Club at Newman Hall in Berkeley.

Parade To Be Held

Affairs to Raise Jubilee Funds Planned

Oakland, March 21, 1913.—Interest in the coming Golden Jubilee of Saint Mary's College to be held at the local college in May is daily increasing. Individuals and organizations in the bay counties are arranging entertainments in the form of shows, card parties, and other amusement. It is expected that the expense of preparing for the jubilee will be covered by these different affairs.

Of the events planned by the local residents that of the Saint Agnes Center, to be held April 2, looms as the most important. This affair will be in the form of a card party. Elaborate prizes for high scores will be offered. Those in charge are Miss May Treacey, Mrs. J. Garrison, and Mrs. C. S. Schmalling. The affair will be held at 829 Peralta street.

San Francisco is also working diligently to assist the local college to make the coming jubilee a big success. On March 30 an excursion about the bay on a boat contributed for the purpose will be made, all proceeds to go to the jubilee parade.

Automobile Parade

The Golden Jubilee Fund is also to be the incentive for an automobile parade and outing to be held in this city probably on April 19.

The plan as set forth calls for a ride through the city districts, starting at the noon hour, and after viewing the attractions of Oakland the autoists will follow a regular route to one of the parks where a basket lunch will be served.

President Installed

Brother Vellesian Promoted To Presidency of Institution

Oakland, August 15, 1914.—Brother Fabrician of the Christian Brothers has retired from the presidency of Saint Mary's College in favor of Brother Vellesian. Brother Fabrician will be connected with the schools of his Order in Saint Louis and vicinity.

The new executive for Saint Mary's has already served two terms as president of Saint Mary's. He did much to develop the engineering courses when they were in their incipiency and in other ways made for himself an enviable reputation.

Brother Leo, professor of English at Saint Mary's will leave for Washington in a few days, where he is to be connected with the Catholic University of America. He will give a literary recital Wednesday evening at the new Sacred Heart College, Ellis and Franklin streets, San Francisco.

Brother Gabriel, who spent the last seven years in the Brothers' College at Portland, Ore., will be in charge of the high school department.

George Faulkner returns to Saint Mary's as football coach, and Richard Lee, formerly of the University of California, will be physical instructor in the stead of Otto Rittler.

Brother Gregory to Be Head of Saint Mary's

Oakland, June 7, 1917.—Brother Gregory, for seven years president of Sacred Heart College in San Francisco, was appointed to the presidency of Saint Mary's College yesterday.

In 1901 he was appointed an instructor at Sacred Heart and in 1905 became vice-president, succeeding Brother Lewis as president in 1910. He took an important part in the establishment of the temporary college at Fell and Fillmore Streets after the fire.

Brother Timothy, vice-president of Saint Mary's College last year, succeeds Brother Gregory as president of Sacred Heart College.

Alumni Group Will Have Banquet For Patriots

Nearly 200 Saint Mary's Men Have Been Enlisted

Oakland, July 20, 1917.—The Alumni Association of Saint Mary's College will have a banquet in honor of the graduates and undergraduates of the college who have responded to the call of the colors. The event will take place at the Hotel Oakland next Monday evening.

The engineering class of the college has been entirely broken up, as the whole group has volunteered. There are about 200 Saint Mary's men now enlisted in the Army and Navy, including alumni, students, and former students.

His Grace Archbishop Hanna will be the guest of honor and a large number of graduates, including many enlisted men in uniform, is expected. Among them will be Judge M. T. Dooling, Presiding Justice T. J. Lennon, Judges Murasky and Flood, Garrett McEnerney, Charles F. Hanlon, Doctor McGettigan, Doctor Schafer, the noted serum discoverer, Doctor W. B. Coffey, and many other prominent in their professions. Other well known men who will be present are Thomas E. Campbell, governor of Arizona, Maurice J. Sullivan, lieutenant governor of Nevada, and several prominent clergymen of the Pacific coast who are graduates of the college.

Theodore F. Bonnet, president of the Alumni Association, will act as toastmaster, and besides a number of addresses, there will be the singing of the "Star-Spangled Banner," "La Marseillaise," and "So Long Mother," and a patriotic recitation by Brother Z. Leo, a member of the college faculty. Another feature of the occasion will be the presentation by the alumni to the college of a set of engrossed and illuminated resolutions paying tribute to her patriotic sons.

The committee in charge consists of Brother Agnon, Theodore Bonnet, Charles F. Hanlon, and John V. Sullivan.

FIRE DESTROYS SAINT MARY'S COLLEGE AS WATER FAILS

Brothers and Students Save Several Narrow Escapes

Loss Believed to Have Been Due to Low Water Pressure

Oakland, May 8, 1918.—Saint Mary's College at Broadway and Twenty-ninth avenue, conducted by the Christian Brothers, with 350 students and twenty-five in the faculty, was partially destroyed in a spectacular fire that menaced the lives of many firemen as they fought the flames. Brothers and students had many narrow escapes but none were injured.

The total loss last night was estimated at $250,000 of which $75,000 was damage to the $500,000 library of the college, which was saved from total destruction by the students, the Brothers and firemen. The school will suspend for this term, it was announced by Brother Gregory, president.

The fire started about 1:30 yesterday afternoon just as the students were changing classes. The flames were noticed coming through the roof by nurses in the Merrit Hospital across the way. The three upper floors were gutted in the blaze which raged for three hours

Commissioner of Safety F. F. Jackson of this city stated that the loss was due to insufficient water hydrants near the college. This is the second time that fire has swept this famous institution as a result of inadequate fire protection in Oakland. In 1894 a shortage of hose caused similar destruction.

As the alarm sounded students rushed to the upper dormitories and started to save their personal effects. Clothing, pictures, books and other articles were tossed from every window. A brigade of volunteers aided the Brothers in carrying out books from the library and hundreds of volumes were saved.

Brother Walbert, 77 years old, in charge of the library refused to leave as the flames menaced his books. Students carried him to safety after he had been overcome by smoke and flames.

Charles Brown, football star of the school, went into the chapel with Father J. J. Cranwell, fighting smoke and flames, and carried into safety a statue of the Blessed Virgin, twice his size. Father Cranwell, in an heroic effort, brought to safety the sacred vessels containing the Blessed Sacrament as well as the majority of the altar plate and vestments in the sanctuary.

One of the singular features of the fire was the falling of the old cross which has been standing on the apex of the building directly over the marble exterior stairway since the fire in September, 1894. The cross was the last thing to fall and then toppled over into the building.

After the flames had been controlled, the Red Cross, under Charles J. O'Connor, director of the Pacific Coast division in Oakland, arranged to furnish cots for some of the students, who were cared for in the gymnasium of the school. Others were taken into the homes of the citizens and the Idora Park management arranged for relief of about 100.

Meanwhile, Dr. F. F. Jackson, commissioner of public health and safety, and Fire Chief Elliot Whitehead are endeavoring to learn why the water pressure was so poor that the third story of the structure could not be reached.

Dr. Jackson declares that the responsibility for the fact that the fire did so much damage rests with the action of the city administration in refusing last year's budget to allow funds for the extension of the high pressure water system from Twenty-second street to the intersection of Piedmont avenue and Broadway.

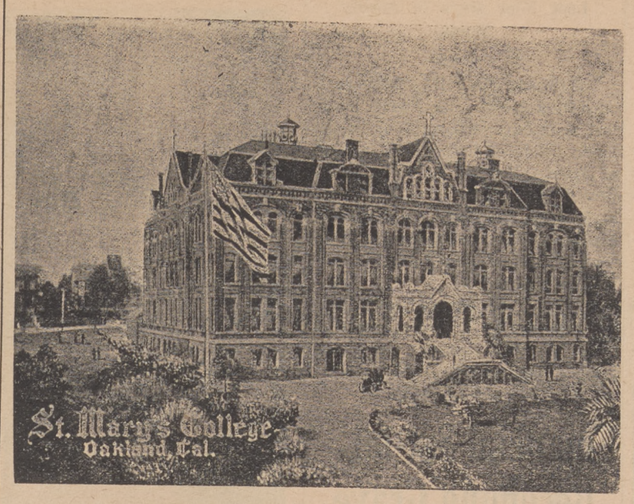
If this extension had been made, Saint Mary's College would have been in the zone of its operation, and undoubtedly, Dr. Jackson declares, Fire Chief Whitehead and the fire department could have saved at least the lower three stories.

Immediately following the fire Tuesday afternoon, Brother Gregory, president of the College, gathered the 400 students in an unburned portion of the building and announced that the present term would terminate immediately and that commencement exercises take place on May 17.

"Twice before have we been knocked down, but we have come up smiling and we will meet this blow with renewed determination to go on," Brother Gregory said, and the students cheered him lustily.

Today Saint Mary's College building stands an empty brick shell like a ruined castle, gutted for the third time since its erection in Oakland in 1887. Efforts to determine the origin of the blaze have been abandoned, owing to the fact that the portion of the building where the fire started was entirely wiped out by the flames.

Destroyed!



An early photograph of Saint Mary's College which was destroyed by fire yesterday. The fire raged unchecked as a result of faulty fire hydrants and lack of pressure.

Saint Mary's, according to Brother Gregory, president, will rebuild immediately. This is the second time that fire has destroyed the historic institution.

COLLEGE CELEBRATES GOLDEN JUBILEE TODAY

Celebration Goes On Despite Recent Destruction of College

ELABORATE PROGRAM BEING PLANNED

Oakland, May 28, 1918.—The golden jubilee of the arrival of the Christian Brothers on the coast and the taking over by them of Saint Mary's College will be celebrated tonight in Scottish Rite Auditorium. The alumni of the college and other educational institutions will take part and there will be musical features of artistic importance.

The fact that the college has just burned down has not deterred those in charge of the affair who say that a college is not so much a building as it is a spirit. The Reverend Father John Sullivan of Mission Dolores will deliver the jubilee oration and Judge Bernard J. Flood will give one of the main addresses.

There will be a plentiful supply of good soloists in the line of music as among those present for the entertainment will be: Vincent de Arrillaga, pianist; Miss Ada Louise Armstrong, mezzo-soprano; and Miss Hazel Johnson, lyric soprano. A large orchestra will provide spirited and patriotic selections during the program.

Archbishop Hanna will be at the celebration and from all over the Pacific Coast will come members of the Christian Brotherhood.

Among the prominent alumni of the college who will attend the jubilee will be Garrett Mc Enerney, well known attorney, Judge Thomas F. Lennon, and other notables of the professional and financial circles of this community.

In observance of the jubilee a solemn high mass was celebrated this morning in Saint Mary's Cathedral beginning at 10 o'clock. The officers of the mass were: Father E. J. Doran, pastor of Saint Monica's Church and a graduate of the college, celebrant; Father James L. Taylor, deacon; Fathers P. E. Mulligan and E. P. O'Connor, deacons of honor; Father M. D. Connolly, assistant priest; Father Oliver Welch, sub-deacon; and Father John M. Byrne, master of ceremonies. The Reverend Father W. P. Sullivan, an alumnus of the college, gave the sermon.

The famous Paulist choir, directed by Reverend William J. Finn, sang the hymns, which added a beautiful and an inspiring thrill and a further air of solemnity

"Bought a Brick?"

Drive for Funds Conducted in Order to Provide for Rebuilding

Oakland Citizens Cooperate in Campaign

Oakland, August 8, 1918.—Have you bought a "brick"? Have you donated at least ten cents toward the rebuilding of Saint Mary's College, historic educational institution on Broadway that was gutted by fire two months ago?

Have you helped to keep the oldest college in Alameda County alive?

These are some of the questions that the volunteer workers in the "buy a brick" drive for funds for Saint Mary's College are asking the men and women of Oakland. And Oakland citizens are responding, but not to the extent that the cause deserves. If the money is not raised, it is very likely that the Brothers will have to abandon the college which is heavily mortgaged as the result of three disasters since its establishment in 1863.

Each "brick" coupon sells for ten cents and there are fifty in each book.

FIRST THE ACORN THEN THE TREE

A GREAT IDEA is certain to grow. The organization of 200 men, who founded our Club in 1933, has now grown to 500 active and paid-up members. Looking forward into the New Year of 1938, the St. Mary's Club foresees a larger membership buoyed up by an enthusiasm and a "desire to do" equal to the peak achievements of the past. It is fitting, now, to review the ideals upon which our Club was founded . . . to promise anew unswerving loyalty and allegiance to the Christian Brothers and St. Mary's College.

WHY THE SAINT MARY'S CLUB?

BECAUSE

we believe in the Christian Brothers, and their tradition of culture;

we believe in their method of education and system of training;

we admire their sacrifices of family, home, position, even identity;

we love their humaneness, their gentleness, their common touch;

and believing in, admiring and loving; we desire to aid the Christian Brothers.

BECAUSE

Organization and organized support are essential to the attainment of success in such an endeavor; only through such organization can there be articulate expression of our faith, hopes and desires.

BECAUSE

St. Mary's College is the outstanding Brothers' institution in California; its success and material well-being will be reflected in all other Brothers' institutions.

BECAUSE

St. Mary's College has but a small alumni, which due to its size, is handicapped in spreading news of the College; of its limited alumni, St. Mary's has a correspondingly narrowed contact with the world beyond its portals.

BECAUSE

we, who are non-graduates and have never attended St. Mary's, have other and additional contacts; we by reaching into different places may aid St. Mary's College to increase its enrollment and extend its influence.

If you who read this are interested in this Club and are qualified to join, you may receive all the desired information by communicating with the Secretary, P. O. Box 327, San Francisco, California.

SAINT MARY'S CLUB

REACHES JUBILEE

Brother Agnon Fifty Years In Order

PRESENT AT OPENING

Taught at Sacred Heart College Many Years

Oakland, May 21, 1921.—The only man in California to reach the fiftieth year of service in the Order of Christian Brothers, the only one of the Brothers living who was present at the opening of the old Sacred Heart School in San Francisco, and the only member of the faculty who has remained at the institution since it was established in Oakland, is Brother Agnon, professor of logic and philosophy, and whose golden jubilee anniversary will be celebrated at the college next Sunday, May 22.

Brother Agnon joined the Order in 1871 at the old Saint Joseph's Academy in Oakland. He remembers it then as little more than a village and the students from Saint Joseph's hiked to where Saint Mary's now stands and on over to Piedmont to picnic in the country.

In 1874 he went to Sacred Heart College in San Francisco, then housed in a new building on Eddy street. He remained there until 1881 and then went to Sacramento for a few years returning to Sacred Heart until he was transferred to Saint Mary's in 1887. Two years later the college was moved to its present site in Oakland, Brother Agnon coming with it.

Brother Agnon, during his fifty years of teaching, has watched thousands of his pupils graduate and become prominent in the affairs of California. They have sent their sons to him to teach and now he has some of their grandsons in his classes.

Two Schools Added at Saint Mary's College

Oakland, May 18, 1924.—Through the institution of a School of Science and a School of Education, the scope of the curriculum of the college has been materially enlarged for the opening of the fall semester next August, it was announced yesterday by Brother Gregory, president of the college.

Beginning this year, pre-medical and pre-legal courses will also be added to augment the Schools of Medicine and Law, Brother Gregory said.

The School of Science will be kept distinct from the School of Engineering, one of the oldest schools of the college, which is in turn one of the oldest in the state.

The School of Education is being started mainly to comply with the demands of Catholic institutions for competent lay teachers. In the past only Brothers studied in the education courses, but this year qualified lay students will be taken for instruction and preparation. Brother V. Leo has been named dean of this branch of the college.

SAINT MARY'S COLLEGE MEN REHEARSE PASSION PLAY

Oakland, Feb. 20, 1925.—This year's Passion Play, to be given Sunday and Monday afternoons, April 5 and 6, in the new Wilkes Theater, Geary street, near Mason, by the student body of Saint Mary's College is called "For All the World." It is the work of Professor Louis LeFevre and Profesor James L. Hagerty of the faculty.

Nearly 100 men and boys will take part in the production, for which daily rehearsals are now being held.

He entered the Novitiate of the Brothers in Montreal, Canada in 1856, and after completing his course taught for five years in the Brothers' schools in Canada. He then came to the United States and soon after left New York with the late Brother Justin and six other Brothers to come to the Pacific Coast and take over the administration of the college on Mission Road in San Francisco.

The new chapel is to be dedicated next month with the first mass being said in it on October 28. BROTHER RESCUED

Lost Four Days in Lonely Wilds

Northfork, June 13, 1935.—Rescued by a forest ranger after being lost four days without food in the lonely wilds of Crown Valley, east of Fresno, Brother Cornelius, vice-president of Saint Mary's College at Moraga and head of the college art department was recovering yesterday at Northfork from his harrowing experience.

The cleric announced that he was not deterred by his experience but would continue as soon as he regained his strength.

Financial Set-up Becoming Grave Say Bondholders

Foreclosure Forecast if Retrenchment Plans Are Unsuccessful

San Francisco, Oct. 18, 1935.—Reorganization or foreclosure of $1,370,500 in Saint Mary's College bonds should the college be unable "to work itself out of financial difficulties," assertedly brought on by "mismanagement" and "an unduly heavy investment in football" was forecast today.

In a letter on file with the state corporation committee, a bondholders' protective committee declared "while the present plan is to test whether or not the college, after instituting various constructive steps, can reasonably be expected to work itself out of its financial difficulties, it may become necessary for the committee to formulate a plan of reorganization or to foreclose under the deed of trust."

Brother Gregory Passes On

Was Formerly Provincial of The Christian Brothers

Saint Mary's, Nov. 6, 1935.—Brother Gregory, leader in the Christian Brothers and one of most widely known Catholic educators and administrators in the West, died this morning at Saint Mary's College.

The former Pacific Coast provincial of the Christian Brothers and former Saint Mary's College president had been ill for more than a year and death had been expected momentarily for the past week.

Requiem high mass will be said in the college chapel Tuesday morning. The entire student body and many alumni and friends of the college will attend.

Brother Gregory was born Arthur J. Mallon, in Portland, Ore., July 10, 1877, and went to San Francisco with his family as a small boy. He studied at Sacred Heart School and college and was an altar boy at Saint Mary's Cathedral, serving mass for the late Archbishop Patrick J. Riordan.

Studied at Martinez

He studied for the brotherhood at the Novitiate of the Christian Brothers at Martinez, entering there on his birthday in 1892, and two years later entered the Order of the Christian Brothers.

The death of Brother Gregory occurred within a few days of Brother Agnon's death, two years ago.

ARCHBISHOP BUYS COLLEGE AFTER PUBLIC SALE

Saint Mary's College, Sept. 17, 1937.—Fully assuring the future of the College, Archbishop Mitty purchased Saint Mary's College for the sum of $715,000, on September 15, according to a statement from Brother Albert, College president.

As a result of the purchase, the Christian Brothers will continue to operate the institutions in Moraga Valley and Peralta Park indefinitely, Brother Albert said. The Archbishop acquired title to the property only, giving assurance to Brother Albert of the continued existence of Saint Mary's.

The entire negotiations between Brother Albert, college officials, and Archbishop Mitty will be concluded within thirty days,

"Coming as it does, at the beginning of our Diamond Jubilee year, we are very hopeful for the future," Brother Albert said. "Relieved of the financial burden and worries concerning the future of the College, we now have something upon which to build. With the existence of the College assured, I look forward to the coming year with great optimism."

Financial difficulties began in 1934 when the College defaulted on the bonds floated to cover expense of building the present plant.
